If you, the reader, was God and you would create a new world practically from zero - as this is indicated by formal scientific proofs from item #G3 of the web page named god_proof.htm, then for sure you would NOT create in this world even a single parameter over which you would NOT have any control. So you should NOT have any doubt, that immensely wiser God so created our physical world, that is able to rule completely over practically everything, including time. Especially, that the principle of control over "software time" is relatively simple and easy for implementing - as this is illustrated to us by even such primitive "imitations of software time", as these formed by people and taking the form of "control programs" for present "machine tools with computerised control" (for details see item #C3 from the web page named immortality.htm). Thus, this web page documents, that God in fact created our world in just such a manner, that time can be controlled in it relatively easily - even with the use of machines build by people and called here the "time vehicles". In turn, the related web page named immortality.htm, explains how us people can utilise these "time vehicles" for overcoming death and for immortal lives - through repetitive shifting ourselves with the help of these vehicles, back in time with to years of our youth each time after we reach on old age.

In 1985 myself (i.e. the author of this web page) was blessed with the honour of developing the theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. One amongst numerous skills which this theory teaches us, is (amongst others) how to take "time" under our control. If my scientific superiors and colleagues allowed me to implement findings of this theory immediately since that 1985, instead of scoffing at my results and instead of pushing me out from their universities and polytechnics, then by the time when 23 years later I was writing these words in 2008, the humanity would already defeat the death and people could live for as long as they wish. People could also repair all their past errors. This is because the theory indicates how to build time vehicles which allow us to shift our time back. In turn when we have such time vehicles, then each time after we get old and we are close to death, we could shift ourselves back in time and become young again. Also each time we make an error, we could shift back in time and repair it. Unfortunately, people have chosen to ignore my theory and to make constructing my inventions impossible - instead of helping me in my creative efforts. So instead of repetitive shifting to our past and living forever, now we can only read from this web page how to do this, and we can only imagine this wonderful technical device, which on every our wish is able to shift us in time to any moment of our own life - under the condition, however, that previously we already lived through this moment. This moment can lie both in our past, as well as in our future. (In order it lies in our future, we must earlier shift back in time with the use of this device.) This device allows us also to slow down the speed of elapse of our time. For example, we can slow down our time so much, that when our surrounding experiences just a fraction of second, we ourselves would experience equivalent of several hours. In this way we would be able to catch and to carry in our bear hands e.g. red-hot iron bars, because for this iron too short span of time would elapse to be able to pass to us enough heat to burn our hands. This wonder device would also allow us to accelerate our elapse of time, so that between two our heartbeats, in the surrounding e.g. several hours would pass. In this way we could e.g. pretend to be dead, while in fact we are going to be equally alive and active as normal. Similarly like for ourselves, this device would also allow all other people and all other creatures and permanent objects to shift in time. Furthermore, in order to make the use of it easier, this device could be assembled in a form of a flying vehicle called the Magnocraft. In this way, with the Magnocraft, we would be able to not only travel in time, but also travel in space. Such an extraordinary device would be the time vehicle which I would build by now - if I was given a chance. This web page tries to explain most vital principles, scientific facts, and findings regarding my time vehicles which I could build for the humanity by now if I was given the help from the beginning of my struggles.

Part #A: Let us start from the illustrative proof that time really can be shifted back:

#A1. Here is how each one of us can see with own eyes that time flows in jumps (i.e. time has a discrete character), and thus that my findings regarding the possibility to build time vehicles and to live forever are correct and can be implemented technically:

YES, in fact there is a commonly accessible proof for the possibility of shifting time back. Every reader can see this proof with his or her own eyes and in a natural daylight. In order to see it, it is enough to find some spinning object which is accelerating from zero to the velocity of around 1800 flickers per second, and which has some spokes, holes, wings, propellers, unevenness, lines, etc., the increasingly faster flickering of which we are able to see with our own eyes in a daylight. For example, this object can be a gradually accelerating propeller of an airplane or blades of the entrance turbine in a jet engine just being started, a hole in a belt pulley from a three-phase electric motor which accelerates a heavy farm machinery - and thus which gradually increases its spinning from zero to a typical for such motors speed of 1800 rev/min, a wheel of a car that is overtaking us, and even spokes from the back wheel of our bicycle placed on a floor with wheels pointed upwards and gradually accelerated by someone when we are tentatively watching it. Well, if we carefully watch such slowly accelerating spinning object, then we should see a strange change of its direction of rotation. Namely, initially our eyes are to notice clearly in which direction it is spinning. But at some stage of the acceleration our eyes are to tell us that the spinning of this object firstly stopped, and then reversed direction in relation to reality. This visual impression taking place in daylight, that the direction of spinning of a gradually accelerated object is opposite to the real direction of its spin, is the proof that time passes in jumps - as the Concept of Dipolar Gravity describes this to us, and thus also the proof that time vehicles can be build. More information about this visual proof that time passes in jumps is explained in item #D2 of the web page god_proof.htm - with the review of scientific proofs for the existence of God, and also in item #D1 of the web page immortality.htm - how we can accomplish now immortality and everlasting life.

It is enough learn two things in order to understand why exactly this visual impression that spinning objects rotate backward is the proof that time can be shifted back (and thus that time vehicles can be build and that through repetitive shifting time back to years of our youth we could live forever). Namely learn (1) the use of so-called "stroboscopic lamps" for visual stopping or for changing the direction of rotation of spinning objects, and (2) the principle on which time works. The use of stroboscopic lamps is described in many sources, e.g. in Internet, in manuals for repair of cars, and in textbooks of physics. So I am NOT going to repeat it here. In turn to understand the principle on which time works, one needs to read to the end of item #C1 from this web page, or even better - to the end of item #G4 from the web page dipolar gravity.htm - about the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. When reading in there about time, we will learn that time in fact is the passage of execution control along the natural program of our life. This program is composed of sequences of individual commands - like present computer programs also are. So the execution control completes a command after a command in a jumping manner. Thus, when we look at a spinning object, the completion of each of these commands in our life program is like a single flash from a stroboscopic lamp beamed at a spinning object. So if this object spins very fast, then the completion of a single command from our life program shows this object to us just only in a specific position. Therefore, when the frequency of flickering of spokes in this spinning object is close to the frequency of completion of individual commands in our life program, then both these frequencies begin to interfere with each other - we see this interference as an apparent reversal of the direction of spin of the object being watched. A similar effect, only that seen exclusively in darkness - instead in the daylight, is simulated in spinning objects through the use of "stroboscopic lamps".

Of course, as one should expect and as it is very easy to verify, present official and highly paid science has NO clue why the effect described here in fact appears in the daily light on spinning objects. After all, present scientists reject the entire my Concept of Dipolar Gravity and scoff at my discoveries. Thus they also reject my explanation of this effect as being caused by the jumpy elapse of time. In turn, without acceptance of the fact, that time elapses in short jumps and pulsates like a "stroboscopic lamp", this phenomenon cannot be explained. Predictably, present scientists are NOT going to openly admit that they are ignorant in this particular matter. When I discussed the proof described here in internet on google discussion groups, various "experts" crudely tried to hide their ignorance by arrogantly playing wise men through using scientific terminology of the kind "stroboscopic effect", or "inertia of human body". However, these well-paid "experts" were unable to explain neither mechanism which causes that whirling objects look as if they rotate backward, nor indicate any evidence that this their "highly scientific" terminology actually is confirmed by any other already researched attributes or phenomena.

After the Concept of Dipolar Gravity explained to us what is time, how time works, and what commonly-known and accessible proof each one amongst us can see to obtain the assurance that these explanations are true, it should become easy for us to understand that shifting time back is possible and relatively easy. After all, in order to shift our time back it is enough to catch this execution control and to move it to the initial part of the program of our life. In turn the device capable to accomplish this is already known. It is the so-called Oscillatory Chamber of the third generation - which I would constructed many years ago if not these hordes of hostile people who did everything in their power to prevent me from building this wonder device.

#A2. Regularities which emerge from analyses of earlier human inventions, and which allow us to understand better "what is going on" with the invention of time vehicles described on this web page:

Motto: "Whatever can be conceived, it can also be achieved."

In my research to-date I carried numerous in-depth analyses of principles and regularities which rule over inventiveness. Because of these analyses e.g. I discovered the so-called "cyclic principle" described in chapter B and in subsection LA1 from volumes 2 and 10 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#). Also from these analyses emerged the principle described in subsection JB7.3 from volume 7 of monograph [1/5], stating that "every invention can be completed in the duration of life of its inventor". Let us list below these amongst such regularities which are to allow us to understand better what really is "going on" with the invention of time vehicles described here:

1. The development of our awareness never exceeds the level of our technical and scientific capabilities. Expressing this in other words, everything that we invent, we are also able to build already in times when we invented it - but only if our contemporaries allow us to build it. A best proof for this fact is the hang-glider invented already by Leonardo Da Vinci, which, however, was constructed only in present times - because other people would NOT allow the inventor to build it in times when it was invented. If we check materials and design of present hang-gliders, then we clearly can see that already in times of Leonardo Da Vinci it could be constructed - if people would allow it then to be build. In turn we do NOT need to explain where would be the humanity today if hang-gliders were already then lifting people to the sky.

2. Our universe is so organised, that everything what can be invented also can be constructed. Proofs and justifications of this fact are described in subsections JB7.3 and I5.4 from volumes respectively 7 and 5 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#).

3. The success with constructing a given invention is accomplished only when (a) people from the society close to the inventor are ready for accepting this invention, and when (b) the required number of sympathetic people from the surrounding of the inventor support his activities. In turn when these other people are NOT ready for accepting the invention and for giving the inventor their support and approval, then the invention either cannot be constructed, or its completion will be wasted. An excellent example for this is the airplane of a New Zealander named Richard Pearce. This airplane was even build and flown. But other New Zealanders so tormented the inventor, that they drove him to the mental hospital - so that he was unable to disseminate his invention nor e.g. implement it to a factory production.

4. If someone displays extraordinary perseverance and still completes his invention in spite that people from his society are NOT ready for accepting it, then this invention is wasted and never enters the permanent accomplishments of the humanity. Especially large number of cases when just this has happened exist in New Zealand - as examples see the invention described on the web page boiler.htm, and also inventions discussed in item #H1 of the web page newzealand visit.htm.

5. Every invention is so granted, that the inventor of it is able to complete it within the duration of his life - if only other people support this inventor in his efforts.

6. The creative completion of the invention, which original inventors are capable to accomplish within several years, other people typically extend to hundreds of years. A perfect example of this regularity is the so-called Zhang Heng seismograph, described, amongst others, in my conference paper available under the address www-ist.massey.ac.nz/conferences/icst05/proceedings/ICST2005-Papers/ICST_112.pdf. It warns about the impending earthquake a long time in advance before this earthquake strikes. The original inventor completed it within a few years. The rest of humanity is unable to rebuild it within almost two thousands of years.

7. All inventions created in "their actual time" always contain knowledge which exceeds significantly the knowledge of people considering themselves to be "experts" in a given area. After all, the very nature of inventions is such that the inventor must be fluent in the knowledge which remains unknown to other so-called "experts", and also he must see details which other people overlook. Furthermore, some requirements of formal "expertise", e.g. the so-called "peer reviews", kill in experts the ability for creative and unbiased thinking. This is why on the back cover of the book [2P4] by Richard Milton, "Forbidden Science", Fourth Estate (6 Salem Road, London W2 4BU), London, 1994, ISBN 1-85702-302-1, 265 pages, pb., is stated, amongst others - quote: "'In this fascinating and well-argued book, Richard exposes a curious feature of many professional scientists: they are averse to new ideas' - Focus."). In turn inferior knowledge of other "experts" cause that they always viciously, although without justification, attack and criticise a given invention. Only inventions constructed with a long time delay (e.g. the "hang-glider" mentioned before) have time to become known, thus can avoid attacks and vigorous criticism.

The above should be complemented with following two "regularities", namely:

8. The official human science developed such a subculture and such mechanisms of acting (e.g. these "peer reviews" mentioned before), that there is NO chance that other scientists ever undertake the construction of time vehicles. So if I do NOT build time vehicle in the duration of my life, or at least do NOT direct this construction at a correct path, then hundreds of years must pass before someone on the Earth will be ready for attempting this building again. (Probably I myself will be forced to be born again on the Earth to finish the work which I initiated in my present life.) A subculture and ambitions of present scientists are described in an illustrative way by the content of the article "Dawkins on board plan for atheism ads", from page B3 of the newspaper The New Zealand Herald, issue dated on Wednesday, October 22, 2008. According to this article, Richard Dawkins, Professor of the Public Understanding of Science on the University of Oxford, and the author of book "The God Delusion", was ready to pay 5500 Pounds Sterling for placing on London's busses the advertisement saying that "There's probably no God. Now stop worrying and enjoy your life". (Notice that the same advertisement on buses was immediately copied by New Zealand atheists - for details see the article "Atheist bus ad campaign strikes chord", from page A5 of New Zealand newspaper The Dominion Post Weekend, issue dated on Saturday, December 12, 2009.) On the other hand, I never encountered a present scientist who would support the construction of such noble and futuristic (although simple and elementary) device as e.g. the Telepathic Pyramid - which would allow e.g. invalids with speech difficulties to communicate just through thoughts. After all, the principle of operation of this pyramid utilises telepathic waves - which similarly like "time vehicles" described here, also are a kind of "taboo" for present scientists. By the way, in another article entitled "Buses no longer have God on their side", from page A18 of the newspaper The New Zealand Herald, issue dated on Thursday, January 8, 2009, it was confirmed that the advertisement discussed here was in fact placed on sides of buses by financial contribution from Professor Dawkins. (That the content of this advertisement is actually missing the truth, is argued in logical analysis from item #H4 of the web page cloud_ufo.htm.)

9. Judging on the volume of my accomplishments since 1985 (when I comprehended the principle on which time works and thus started the process of inventing time vehicles described here) we can be sure that if then I would receive from others the help that I need, until today I would build time vehicles. About my creative potential perfectly certifies the large number of extraordinary devices which I managed to invent, discoveries which I accomplished, theories of the type "paradigm shift" which I developed, proofs for the correctness of my findings which I identified and pointed to others, and scientific monographs which I managed to write. And we must remember that I was forced to create all these in hugely hostile conditions in which other people would probably just sit and cry, and which (conditions) very cautiously and briefly are mentioned, amongst others, on the web page pajak_jan_uk.htm - about myself, means my autobiography. After all, in the country I was born they tried to shoot me, in turn in the country I escaped to they do not have work for me for a majority of time, nor even consider me eligible for a dole. Thus, instead of creating, discovering, inventing, researching, constructing, and making progress, to which obviously I have in-born inclinations, the majority of my energy and time I was (and still am) forced to waste on seeking jobs or on wander throughout the world to earn for a slice of bread. Also the majority of what I created I was forced to develop while vegetating in a leaking flat only slightly larger than an average lift, not having at home even a good screwdriver, not even dreaming of having an Internet, and while with growing horror I spend each subsequent cent from my savings - as I may need it even more in my older age.

#A3. Yet another totaliztic web page reveals how time vehicles can be used practically for accomplishing immortality:

This web page explain generally what is this "software time", how this "software time" works, and how to build so-called "time vehicles". But there is also another totaliztic web page named immortality.htm which explains how after constructing these "time vehicles" each one of us can accomplish immortality through repetitive shifting back in time to years of youth every time after he or she lives to the old age. In its item #D5 that another web page explains also verses in the Bible in which the confirmation is provided, that the principle of accomplishing immortality described here (i.e. thus also the principle of operation of time vehicles described here) is correct. Thus it is really worth to also have a look at that another web page named immortality.htm.

Part #B: What is time, how time works, and where the knowledge about time presented here comes from:

#B1. Orthodox understanding of time - what it states, why is wrong, and what limitations it displays:

Motto: "According to the orthodox understanding, time is like water in a river which flows around us while we stand motionlessly like a stone in the centre of it. Therefore, in this understanding we do not have a possibility to reverse or to change the speed or direction of the elapse of time."

The human science to-date developed the understanding of time through the analysis of the behaviour of sun in the sky. According to this, time usually is described in dictionaries as - quote: "time - a concept arising from change experienced and observed: a quantity measured by the angle through which the earth turns on its axis" - see page 1537 in "Chambers English dictionary", 1989, ISBN 1-85296-000-0; or "time - duration or continuous existence regarded as divisible into portions or periods, a particular portion of this" - see page 1142 in "The Cassell dictionary and thesaurus", 1996, ISBN 0-

Nevertheless, practically all disciplines of science accumulated already a huge body of evidence, which unambiguously and clearly reveals, that this orthodox understanding of time is wrong. One of the best known examples of such evidence is, amongst others, the "review of the entire our live" (see the description in item #F3 from the web page soul_proof.htm), which in people takes place at the moment of a mortal danger - e.g. at the time of falling from a roof, or during a car accident. In this review, participants see exactly details of the entire their life to-date, while all this takes the duration of not more than several seconds. In the orthodox understanding of time, such a review would be impossible - it would not fit into the timespan available for it. Another example of such evidence, are phenomena described in item #C6 of this web page, which are really experienced by people, but which would be impossible - if time works as the present orthodox science describes it.

In normal circumstances, when it would be so obvious that something is completely wrong - as this is the case with the present scientific understanding of time, the science would abandon this understanding already a long ago, and worked out a better (more correct) one. Unfortunately, the Earth's science is NOT free to choose what it investigates and promotes - after all, it is ruled by a hidden occupant of the Earth, described on separate web pages, for example on pages evil_truth, or changelings. In turn, this hidden occupant of humanity have a vital interest in reassuring that people are unable to gain a correct knowledge about reality which surrounds them. For this reason, in spite that the scientific understanding of time to-date is strikingly wrong, our science still insists on maintaining it and on disseminating it without a change. What is even worst, in spite that the new (correct) understanding of time is already worked out by the scientific theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, the orthodox science rejects this understanding and does NOT recognises the existence of it. In this way humanity loses a chance for an advancement of its knowledge also by a correct understanding of the idea of time.

This wrong understanding of time, so stubbornly promoted by the orthodox science, has a whole array of limitations. For example, it does NOT allow to deduce the way for travelling in time, nor it gives to people any clues as to which principles of time travel could be technically implemented.

Although the orthodox science insists on this erroneous understanding of time, the reader does NOT need to, nor actually should, act like this science does. In fact, the reader should learn and consider in his or her own actions and own life, the understanding of time and time travel described on this web page.

#B2. How the alternative understanding of "time", introduced only by the scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, opens for people the completely new horizons and potentials:

Motto: "According to the understanding of time in the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, "time" is a kind of motionless software landscape (called the "timespace"), through which we all move propelled by the motion of "execution control" from our "programs of life and fate" which operate in our counter-bodies (as parts of our souls). Therefore, it is possible to move through this landscape in any direction and with any speed."

According to explanations of the new scientific theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, time is motionless, while it is us who travel through the time. Or more strictly, this software so-called "timespace" (by the author of this web page called also "omniplan") is crossed by the "execution control" from our "programs of life and fate" existing in the counter-material duplicates from the counter-world (how exactly "time" works is explained below in more details). In this aspect the dipolar understanding of time is opposite to the one commonly adopted today. After all, in the presently adopted understanding of time we stand in one place, while time "flows" around us. Thus, the findings of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity undermine the correctness of the most fundamental belief of orthodox science to-date, which states that "time flows" around us, while we stand motionlessly in the stream of it, thus our travel in time is impossible.

* * *

One of the most vital consequences of the dipolar understanding of time is that it indicates the manner and a technical principle for a practical implementation of time travel. Although the Concept of Dipolar Gravity states, that in our set of dimensions and in our physical world, path through time leads only in one direction (thus in this dimension it is impossible to change the elapse of time), in other set of dimensions (i.e. in the counter-world) it is possible to manipulate on time in every possible direction. Means, in the counter-world is possible, e.g. turning time back, moving forward in time, accelerating the elapse of time, and also delaying the speed of the elapse of our time. This in turn leads us straight to the working out the operation of time vehicles.

#B2.1. What is this "timespace" ("omniplan"):

It is me who introduced the concept of so-called "timespace" (also called "omniplan") to our understanding of the work of time. I developed this concept immediately after I discovered the so-called "software nature of time" that stems from the theory of everything also developed by me (i.e. by the author of this web page) and called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. Because the concept of "timespace" (or "omniplan") has a key significance to our understanding of "what is time" and also how the "software time" works in our physical world (and thus how "time vehicles" can be build), it is going to be summarised here briefly. However, for even a better understanding of it, I would suggest to later reach also to item #C3 from my other web page named immortality.htm.

By the name "timespace" ("omniplan") we should understand a kind of "software entity" formed from natural programs that represent all physical "objects" which ever existed, exist, or will exist in the entire universe. (By these "objects" one should understand everything that can be seen or instrumentally detected in the entire universe, means the entire universe, galaxies, suns, planets, people, animals, vegetation, stones, grains of sand, molecules of water, etc.) These natural programs which represent subsequent "objects" from the "omniplan" or "timespace", are pre-programmed in the manner very similar to the principle of programming known as OOP - i.e. "Object-Oriented Programming". This means, that every object is described by a program in which one can distinguish two groups of quantities, namely "attributes" (which describe the appearance and states of this object) and "events" (means programs that describe what is to happen with this object in subsequent stages of its "life"). It is worth to add, that the entire "timespace" ("omniplan") is also pre-programmed as one amongst such objects, only that it has the status of the most superior object, which governs over the behaviour of all other objects contained in it.

The pre-programming of subsequent objects that form "timespace" (or "omniplan") in the OOP-like convention, gives to them an array of unique characteristics. For example, every of these objects is "portable" and can be shifted into times other than its own, and have like its own "life". This "life" of every object, means its "path trough time", illustratively can be compared to someone's walk through a landscape. It means, every object has a "free will" to choose for itself the path which it then follows in that landscape. It can also introduce slight "changes of state" in this landscape, e.g. shift some stone into other place, or dig a channel which is to redirect a stream into a different path. But a a give object is unable to change in its "life" any events which affect object superior to it. For example, in that illustrative comparison to a "walk through time" ("life") of a given object to someone's walk over a landscape, the walking creature is unable to change events which change that landscape (such as earthquakes, tornadoes, or hurricanes). The reason for this impossibility of changing the entire landscape, is that a given creature is just an "object" inferior towards the landscape, and thus it must obey programs of events which are attributed to this landscape.

All software representations of objects which constitute the "timespace" ("omniplan") exist forever, similarly like forever exist human souls.

The "timespace" ("omniplan") is of a key significance for our understanding of work of time and principles of time travel. Therefore, it is described in many publications by the author. For example, amongst web pages, apart from this page it is also described in item #C3 from the totaliztic web page named immortality.htm, in item #G4 from the totaliztic web page dipolar gravity.htm, and also in items #J4 to #J6 from the totaliztic web page wszewilki jutra uk.htm. The work of it discusses also item #C2 from the web page immortality.htm - about extending life infinitively through repetitive shifting our time back to years of our youth. In the author's monographs the "timespace" is described in subsection N1.6 from volume 11 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#).

#B3. What is this new scientific theory of the totalistic science, called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, which - amongst others, explained what is time and how time works:

The essence of this new scientific theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity boils down to the discovery and to subsequent formal proving, that the gravity field is a dipolar field - means NOT the monopolar one as so far claimed this the orthodox science on Earth. (A dipolar field is every dynamic field which has two poles, namely an "inlet" (I) and "outlet" (O). A best example of a dipolar field is the magnetic field, in which the "inlet" (I) is the pole "N", while the "outlet" (O) is the pole S. Another example of a dynamic dipolar field, is the field formed by a circulation of air in our home vacuum cleaner. The intake of this air to the vacuum cleaner is the pole (I), while the outlet is the pole (O). In turn a monopolar field is every static field, e.g. pressure field or electrical field.) The above in turn means, that the gravity field in fact is similar to a magnetic field, or to a field formed by flow of the air pumped through a vacuum cleaner or by a fan propeller. But gravity is completely dissimilar to all monopolar fields, for example to electrical fields or to pressure fields.

The most vital consequence of the dipolar character of gravity is, that in fact our universe must be constructed according to principles of dynamic systems which form such dipolar fields. For example, in the dipolar gravity our physical world must be just a first out of two parallel worlds which exist in the universe. This happens so, because the gravity field has a concentric character (means a character in which it converges into a single point). So in order such a concentric field could simultaneously be a dipolar field, the force lines of it, after they converge into a single border point, must disappear from our world, penetrate through an invisible and impenetrable barrier of some sort, and then reappear in a completely different, separate from our, parallel world. Therefore, according to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, on the other end of gravity dipole, there must exist another world, called the counter-world. Both worlds, means "our world" and this other "counter-world", must relate to each other the same as objects relate to own mirror reflections. This in turn introduces a whole array of consequences. One of these is that both worlds, i.e. "our world" and this parallel "counter-world", must be filled up with substances of exact opposite attributes. Means, when the substance from our world called matter displays mass, inertia, friction, and the lack of intelligence in the natural state, this other substance from the counter-world, called counter-matter must have all attributes exactly reversed. And so, counter-matter must be weightless, self-mobile (i.e. capable of the self-initiation of motion), supper-slippery (i.e. not displaying any friction), and possessing intelligence in the natural state (i.e. capable of thinking in its natural state). In turn the entire separate world filled up with a substance which is able to think in the natural state, in fact is a kind of a huge natural computer. This natural computer, by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity is called the "universal computer", or "UC". In turn the Christian religion calls it the God Father.

Another consequence of the mirror-like relationship which must exist in the dipolar gravity between our world and the counter-world, is that each object from the universe, must exist in two separate copies, or components, at the same time. Each of these copies, or components, coexists in a separate world. The copy from our world is simply a given object or a given physical body. In turn the copy from the counter-world is an intelligent counter-material duplicate of this object or body. So this counter-material duplicate is a carrier of intelligence, memory, etc., means in fact it works like a computer which controls a given body. After all, it is formed from the intelligent substance, which thinks in the natural state. (Religions call these two copies a "body" and a "spirit" or a "phantom".) Both copies of the same object are tightly linked with each other with forces of mutual gravitational interactions. Therefore, if one copy is moved (or transformed), the other copy must do the same. So if we are able to move, e.g. the copy (spirit) which is located in the separate counter-world, then the motion of this copy forces the physical original of the same object to move also. Just such a motion, which was initiated in the separate counter-world, is called the telekinetic motion. In a similar manner also a telekinetic healing works (i.e. the healed is this other copy from the counter-world, while the original body from our world automatically improves the health). Similarly to this telekinetic motion or telekinetic healing, the new Concept of Dipolar Gravity explains also in a simple manner all other phenomena, which the orthodox Earth science was unable to explain so far. For example, it explains what is time, energy, gravity, ESP, God, memory, feelings, nirvana, acupuncture, and many more.

The author of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity is myself (i.e. Dr Jan Pajak). I had the honour to develop this new theory of the totaliztic science in 1985. Initially I intended to use it only for describing the manner on which gravity field works. But after it was fully formulated, it turned out that from just a simple form it transformed into this theory of everything searched for so long by people. This is because it provides replies to practically all questions that people could ask themselves. In order to give here some idea as to how wide range of questions it replies, I suggest to look at the subsequent web pages of totaliztic sciences listed in "Menu 2". The great majority of these web pages is actually based, or derived, on the knowledge which stems from the Concept of Dipolar Gravity.

One of the most vital questions, the answer to which is provided by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, is the explanation how time works. According to this explanation, all objects which do exist in the universe, are in fact constructed like our present computers. Namely, they have their hardware (means their physical "bodies") - which is contained in our physical world. They also have their software (means their software "souls") - which is contained in the special "counter-bodies" (or "spirits") from this separate counter-world. According to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, in just a manner which is analogous to present computers, constructed are e.g. entire planets, trees, human organisms, and even such simple objects as pens or stones. The counter-body of every physical object that exists in the universe, is in fact a kind of computer memory. In this memory a huge amount of various natural programs is stored, which control, amongst others, the fate of the physical body of this object. These programs are called the "soul" by religions. These programs (i.e. the "soul") include, amongst others, a general "program of life and fate" of a given object, various programs of "karma", which this object gathered, programs of "plans of action" which this object intelligently pre-programmed for itself, etc., etc. From the point of view of the control over time, the most important amongst these natural programs is the "program of life and fate". This program remains operational during the entire life, while its elementary commands are executed one-after-the-other, according to principles of operation of the counter-world. The subsequent execution of elementary commands from this program causes that the physical body of a given object (e.g. our body) is subjected to various transformations, which we usually call the "course of life". In turn the sole fact that this program is gradually run command-by-command, and it changes a given physical body, we perceive just as the "elapse of time". I should add here, that the "program of life and fate" is also described in items #C1, #C2, #C4, #C5, and #D2 of the totaliztic web page soul_proof.htm, and also in item #C1 of the web page immortality_pl.htm - from which pages the reader can learn more details about it.

So let us summarise now the above explanation of time that results from the Concept of Dipolar Gravity and that is supported by empirical findings. It defines time in the following manner. "Time is the flow of execution control through the sequence of elementary commands from the special version of our personal software programs, which instead in our physical world, reside in the separate world called the counter-world." These programs control what currently happens with the physical body, how this body looks like, which transformations affect it, etc. Their gradual completion is what we understand as the elapse of time.

Further information about the Concept of Dipolar Gravity can be found in chapters H and I from volumes 4 and 5 of as many as three my monographs, namely (listed from the newest to the oldest): [\[1/5\]](#), [\[8/2\]](#) and [\[1/4\]](#). (Free copies of all these monographs can be downloaded from web pages linked above.) Explanations what actually time is, are contained in subsections H5 and H8 from volume 4 of these monographs. In turn explanations of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity concerning the mechanism of operation of time and time vehicles, are contained in chapter M from volume 11 of monograph [\[1/5\]](#). The same "theory of everything" is also briefly presented on several totaliztic web pages. The most extensive presentation of it is contained on the web page about the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. It is also partially discussed on web pages telekinesis.htm, fe_cell.htm, free_energy.htm, or totalizm.htm - which are available under a number of addresses, e.g. under the address bible.webng.com.

#B4. How the operation of "time" is explained by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity:

Let us imagine for a moment, that we are not people, but robots. Means, that instead of the brain we have a computer with appropriate program which defines every our life activity. Instead of muscles, joints, and bones, we have levers, hinges, linear motors, etc. So whatever action we would undertake, in fact it would turn out to be a sequence of elementary commands in the program from our computer. For example, what for outside observers would look like a continuous process of placing a meal on someone's saucer, in reality for us, robots, would be a sequence of execution commands from an iteration program that would order us to do something along lines: (1) start, (2) determine the distance of hand from the saucer, (3) check whether there is any obstacle between the hand and the saucer, (4) calculate the optimal trajectory of the hand which goes around this obstacle, (5) determine the safe coordinates of the target point of this trajectory, (6) calculate the optimal speed of the hand, (7) move the hand to the target point of given trajectory, (8) check whether a given target point is close enough to the saucer to release the grip of fingers on the meal, (9) if the outcome of the check is "yes" then initiate the program of placing the meal on the dish, if the outcome is "no" then return to the command number (1) in the program that you are just completing, and complete this program again. Of course, the above sequence of execution commands would only represent a "discrete" program only to this someone who would design us, robots, and who wrote this execution program. (By a "discrete" program we understand a program composed a sequence of individual, short execution commands. Such a "discrete" program is opposite to the "continuous" processes, which do not have such individual, short commands.) For us, means for robots who complete this program, and also for external observers of our activities, everything that we do would actually look like a "continuous" process. In fact, when someone watches the operation of any true machine controlled by a computer, then he or she does not perceive the work of this machine as a "discrete" sequence of commands of the control program, but just as such a "continuous" process of given activity.

There is a whole array of extraordinary facts which are realised to us by the situation and actions described above for the hypothetical case when we would be robots, not people. The most vital out of these facts is a slightly shocking discovery, that what for us and for other witnesses looks like a "continuous process" spread in time, in fact is just a sequence of "discrete execution commands" completed in jumps one after the other. Expressing this in other words, in all activities which are controlled by an algorithm, time is in fact a sequence of execution commands of this algorithm. Other shocking fact which also emerges from the situation described previously, is that in fact this algorithmic understanding of time allows for any possible manipulation on time. For example, if one increases the speed with which subsequent execution commands are completed one after the other, then this process which we take for the elapse of time is visibly accelerated. The elapse of time can also be slow down on similar principles. Furthermore, if the execution control is shifted unconditionally to any other point in the direction of the beginning or the end of a given execution algorithm, then we are able jump to future or to past. Expressing this in other words, such an algorithmic understanding of time, as a sequence of execution commands, allows us to control the elapse of time in any manner we wish, as well as it allows us to carry out the time travel.

The situation of us acting for robots, as described before, would remain just purely hypothetical, if not the findings of this new scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. It is because this concept determined that all our life actions take place because each one of us in fact has inside such a discrete control computer, and also because all what we do in our lives is controlled by appropriate discrete programs stored in the memory of this control computer. Means, according to findings of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, the previous example of operation of robots, in fact was also an exact description of the operation of people. Only that we ourselves typically are unaware that each our action, and also each our life function, in reality is controlled by sequences of such elementary execution commands. Typically we also are unaware, that what we call the "elapse of time", is in fact just the completion of such sequences of elementary execution commands.

#B5. What benefits and prospects opens for us the understanding of "time" according to the new Concept of Dipolar Gravity:

The findings of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, that the elapse of time is simply a flow of execution control through the sequence of elementary commands contained in our biological computer, open for us the possibility to accomplish time travel and to complete "time vehicles". After all, the only thing that we need to build time vehicles, is to construct a device of some sort, which would be able to change the flow of execution control through these natural programs contained in our biological computers. (Actually such a device is already invented. It is called the Oscillatory Chamber of the third generation.) The Concept of Dipolar Gravity explains also how such time vehicles are going to work. This web page is aimed at describing the operation of time vehicles. But in order to carry out this explanation in a way which is understandable for all of us, it needs to explain all matters in a systematic manner, starting from the very beginning.

#B6. The general principle of shifting back someone's time and the practical implementation of this principle by Oscillatory Chambers of the third generation:

In item #G4 of the web page dipolar gravity.htm - about the Concept of Dipolar Gravity was explained how exactly time works. (This explanation is briefly repeated on this web page in item #B4 above.) In turn item #A1 from the introduction to this web page describes the empirical proof which documents that time actually does elapse in jumps - means exactly in the manner as this is explained by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. So now it is turn to explain how time vehicles are going to shift this time back.

For all living creatures the carriers of natural programs of their lives and fate are the double helixes from their genetic codes (DNA). It is the discrete (jumping) execution of these programs from atoms of genetic codes that living creatures perceive as the "elapse of time". Every atom and every molecule of genetic codes from living creatures contains and stores in itself a section of programs of their life. Such a section defines how in a given moment of time the cell from the body of living creature that this program describes supposed to look like. Also, this section of the program binds the cell from body with a given layer of the "timespace". Every section of this program of life and fate is executed at the moment when the atom and molecule in which it is stored gets into a resonance with vibrations of this "timespace". Thus the key to control over the elapse of someone's time, is the capability to induce a resonance of these atoms of genetic code of a given creature, which we want, instead of these atoms which resonate under the control of natural mechanisms of the "timespace". (More on the subject of role of genetic codes is explained on the totaliztic web page evolution.htm - about the mechanism of evolution.)

The device which is going to be able to execute practically the resonance of a selected atom and selected molecule of someone's genetic codes, is the so-called Oscillatory Chamber of the third generation. This is because such a chamber is able to generate extremely powerful magnetic field of an ideally constant value. Onto this ideally constant magnetic field this chamber is going to superimpose impulses of the required frequencies and the required course of curves that describe changes of the field. In this way the Oscillatory Chamber of the third generation is going to excite the resonance of a selected atom and selected molecule of someone's genetic code. This in turn is going to cause, that such someone is to be shifted in time to the period in his or her life that is described by a section of the program of life and fate which is stored in this resonating atom and particle. If this resonating atom and particle are to be positioned below the atom and particle which are just resonating because of the action of natural mechanisms of "timespace", then such a creature is to be shifted back in time, e.g. to years of his or her youth.

As the above reveals it, the general principle of shifting time back is very simple. In order to be able to shift time back it suffices to build the Oscillatory Chamber of the third generation, and then surround ourselves with a powerful and correctly controlled magnetic field that is generated by this Oscillatory Chamber. According to a well-known (Polish) saying "to a clever head just one word is enough" (in the Polish language "mądrej głowie dość po słowie"), this general principle indicates the direction towards which should go the research effort of future builders of time vehicles. Of course, another (English) saying states that "devil is in details". So in order to build time vehicles, still many amongst these "details" need to be learned. It is a bit like with a general principle of atomic bomb - which is presently known to practically every child. (I.e. with the principle stating that "in order to build an atomic bomb it is enough to construct a device which several pieces of nuclear fuel of under-critical mass joins rapidly into a single piece of such fuel with over-critical mass.) After all, luckily for us it is just because of such "details" that even large countries which already have nuclear fuel and have the required level of technology, still are unable to construct such a bomb. Relating this to the requirements of building time vehicles, it is rather pity that so many people do everything in their powers to make impossible for me undertaking the construction of this miraculous machines. After all, the missing details which my creative mind could work out either theoretically, or learn empirically from research on "simulations" of UFOs of the third generation, or determine experimentally, within just several years, the future researchers may need to seek for hundreds of years or perhaps even for thousands of years. In the meantime all people from our civilization will still be forced to die, because the lack of time vehicles will NOT allow them to shift back in time to years of their youth after their arrival to an old age.

Further information about practical implementation of principles of shifting time back is presented in subsection N3.2 from volume 11 of my monograph [\[1/5\]](#) (disseminated free of charge via this web page). The same topic of travelling in time is summarised in item #C2 from the totaliztic web page immortality.htm. In turn slightly more extensive presentation of so-called "programs of life and fate" which allow the practical implementation of our travelling through time, is available on the web page soul proof.htm.

Part #C: Time travel and time vehicles - what these are, and what are consequences of their use:

#C1. So how to accomplish a time travel according to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity:

The Concept of Dipolar Gravity reveals to us, that the most easy manner to understand the operation of time and principles of time travel, is when we utilise the analogy existing between the counter-world, and the real time computer program. This analogy allows us to deduce the principles of completion of real events occurring in our physical world. These events are executed by the counter-world in a manner very similar to the way the processing commands of a program are executed in contemporary computers. Thus, it can be deduced, that such natural programs contained in the counter world and residing in the counter-material duplicates of every physical object, contain also sequences of elementary execution commands. These commands are executed in succession, one by one. Therefore, there is always a command, which is actually in the process of execution, as well as the other commands - part of which were already executed in the past, and part waiting to be executed in the future. Such a flow of the execution sequence occurring in the counter-world, in our world is manifested just as a lapse of time.

In order the counter-world is able to run a given course of events, this course must be pre-programmed in special natural programs, which in subsection I5.2 from volume 5 of monograph [1/5] are called "registers" (religions call them "souls"). In fact, the elapse of time is the flow of execution control through these programs called "registers". Of course, these programs (registers) are stored and run by the intelligent counter-matter from the counter-world, similarly like present programs from our to-day computers are stored and run by logical circuitry of these computers. But otherwise than in our computers, every particle of counter-matter have all attributes which in our computers obtained one special memory cell only, which by computer experts is called the "accumulator". For this reason, natural programs which run the elapse of time, may wander across counter-matter, changing their location from one volume of counter-matter into another volume, without losing their ability to be completed. On the occasion of these wandering, they induce a phenomenon of physical friction with counter-matter, which people know under the name of "gravity field". For more details regarding the operation of every particle of counter-matter as an equivalent of "accumulators" from present computers, see subsection I2 from volume 5 of monograph [1/5].

According to findings of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, every material object has these natural programs assigned to itself. These programs are stored and run by counter-matter. (Religions call them "soul", while the Concept of Dipolar Gravity calls them "registers".) Because the counter-matter is intelligent in the natural state, it has all abilities of a natural computer. Thus, it can run (execute) these our natural programs. It is because of them, that a given material object is active. Means, that if a given object is a man, then due to these natural programs it can move, carry out work, think, get older, etc. In turn if it is e.g. a stone, then these programs control how it oxidises, dissipates, splits into smaller stones, wears and tears, etc. Execution programs from the counter-world work similarly like programs in our present computers, i.e. in order to act, the "execution control" must pass through subsequent their commands. (This "execution control" is simply like a "cursor" which indicates which command from such a natural program is to be run just now, while which one is to be run as a next one.) The speed with which this execution control is moving through programs from the counter-world, in our world is perceived as the elapse of time. If we have an appropriate device (or natural capabilities) which gives us the access to this execution control from the counter-world, then the natural speed with which this control moves, can be either accelerated or slowed down, or reversed into an opposite direction (i.e. caused that time starts to flow backwards), or just shifted to another area of the execution program, thus causing a rapid travel in time. Such a simple mechanism of operation of time explains what is the principle of this mysterious phenomenon, and also on what principle time vehicles work. ("Time vehicles" are simply technical devices which change the location and speed of operation of this "execution control" within selected "programs of life and fate" contained in the counter-world.") For more data regarding mechanism of time, and the utilisation of this mechanism for building time vehicles, I recommend to have a look at chapter M from volume 11 of the newest monograph [1/5], or to subsection L7 from volume 7 of slightly older monograph [8]. (Both these monographs are available free of charge via this web page.)

When the humanity masters the construction of time vehicles, then it becomes possible to build a whole range of various technical devices, which all are going to be able to shift in time people and other objects. Several such devices is already described in chapter M from volume 11 of monograph [1/5], and in subsection L7 from volume 7 of monograph [8]. The most interesting out of these, is the "Magnocraft of the third generation" - which utilises the shifting in time for an instant reaching any point in the space and time. There are separate web pages devoted to the presentation of Magnocrafts. Examples of these include propulsion.htm or magnocraft.htm. I suggest to have a look at some of these web pages.

#C1.1. The mechanism of time so controls the work of human memory, that the "natural" reliving another version of the past (e.g. because someone changed this past with his or her time vehicle) erases the memory of previous version of that past; but being shifted back in time through the use of our own time vehicle only adds the memory of another version of the past to the already existing memories of previous versions of that past:

As it turns out, the program which controls our passage through time, has a direct link with the program which registers our memory. Namely, when the time is shifted back near us, but it is NOT us who did this shifting through the use of time vehicle that altered the program which controls our passage through time, then the memory of events which are taking place in this new passage through the time are superimposed onto the memory of our previous path through the same time. Thus, the memory of our previous path through time is then completely erased. Therefore we remember only the most recent path through a given time. But if it is us who shifts back in time by altering with the time vehicle our own program of passage through time, then the memory of this new passage through the time is only added to the end of memory of our previous passage through the time. In the result we remember both our passages through a given time, means our old passage as well as our new passage through the same time.

Because of this linking of our memory with the program which controls our passage through time, we may repetitively relive a number of events from our past during the lifetime, without remembering any of them. The reason is that this reliving does not results from the resetting back our own program of passage through time. So we do not remember later that given events we already lived through - some of them even several times. Thus, the situation in our lives may frequently look like the one which is illustrated on the film "Groundhog Day" described in item #D8.1 of this web page. After all, each our previous passage through a given time is automatically erased from our memory, while conscientiously we remember only the most recent passage through a given time. (Though previous passages can emerge for us in the form of so-called "deja vu" spelled also as "déjà vu".) Such an erasure of our previous memory is intensely exploited by "simulations" of UFO-nauts, who continually shift time back in order to accomplish their evil goals through this shifting - for details see item #D8.1 of this web page.

Such an erasure of former memory and replacing it with new memory - if in a normal elapse of time someone relives two versions of a given time, has a shocking consequence. Namely, if someone after living through a former version of events flies, e.g. to New Zealand, and because of this is not reliving again the new version of the same events, then in his memory still stored is only the previous version of these events. So if someone previously saw e.g. a church or an icecream parlour which existed in an old version of events, but is not existing in the new version of the same events, then such a visitor from a distant place still will remember that there was a church or a parlour, although the local people do not remember them at all. In the result, for frequent travellers sometimes events may take place in life, similar to the events described below in item #D6.

#C2. Limitations which according to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity are imposed onto travelling in time on principles of the deformation of magnetic fields:

As it turns out, the explanation for the elapse of time and for method of time travel through technical introduction of deformations to magnetic fields, provided by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, informs us also, that there are strict laws which govern this way of travelling in time. These laws cause, that onto time travel by method described here various limitations, requirements, and conditions are imposed. Let us list here at least most vital out of these:

1. The travel may occur exclusively within the boundaries of the timespan defined by length of the traveller's life. One amongst laws which rule this principle of time travel states, that jumps to the new point in time in our life, can occur only then, when in this particular point in time we already have a so-called "label" placed - to which such a jump in time takes place. This practically means, that in order to jump to any point in time in our life, we must already live through this particular point. So that we have appropriate label over there for later jumps in time. Thus practically serious limitations have been imposed on this way of time travel. Namely we are unable to travel in time to points in time through which we previously did not live already. Therefore this particular principle of time travel makes us like "prisoners of our own time". Especially well this is visible in the utilisation of the time travel for gaining an immortality. The kind of immortality which this way of travelling in time offers to the users, is like an "imprisoned immortality". Means, it is the immortality in which one can live infinitively long through continuous repetitions of his or her own life, but in which one does not leave beyond time boundaries between which a given immortal person happens to be living - for more details see item #C7 in further part of this web page.

2. The lack of possibility to take into the time travel any object, creature, or person, which still did not exist in the time to which a given traveller just moves. The principle of travelling in time described here depends on shifting the conscience and memory to the designated moment in time. Therefore, after one finds himself or herself in this designated point of time, he or she does NOT have with himself or herself anything else, apart of the own memory of life in a different time, and apart of whatever originally this person already had in this designated point in time. So it is impossible to take with one into a travel back in time e.g. one's own computer which was recently purchased, or notes and photographs which just were accomplished.

3. The experiencing of physical changes to body induced by the motion in time, but without simultaneous experiencing the spiritual changes such as change of memory, character, habits, etc. In people who travel in time via the method described here, various physical changes induced by time take place at the moment of their shifting in time. For example, if an 80-year old person shifts back in time on this principle, to the age when he or she was 2 years old, then his or her body is going to assume the shape identical to that which it had in this age of 2 years. However, simultaneously the memory of this oldie, knowledge, richness of life experiences, habits, and also character, still are going to be the continuation of the same ones which he or she had at the end of the previous passage of time, just before carrying out this shifting back in time. Thus, for example, if this oldie in the age of 80 years was very boring and grumpy, and was only able to swear and hurt all around him or her, and e.g. was afraid to wash, after shifting back in time to the age of two years old, he or she still remains the same boring and grumpy old character, who needs to be taken to the bath by force, and who recalls all good and bad things that happened to him or her in the previous life. This fact has especially catastrophic consequences for members of parasitic civilisations which practice such a form of immortality - for details see item #D8 below.

#C3. Whether paradoxes described in "science fiction" books really appear in the feasible principle of time travel:

The Concept of Dipolar Gravity provided us with exact explanations of the mechanism of time and mechanism of elapse of time. It explains in details what is this software phenomenon, how to control it with biological and technical methods, and how to utilise it e.g. for the construction of propulsion systems for space vehicles (i.e. Magnocrafts) which travel on principles of shifting time back (so that time vehicles must physically move only to a given place, while their way back is carried out through the shifting time back to the starting point), and which phenomena accompany the appearance of changes in natural elapse of time - thus how to recognise and distinguish when a time vehicle operates in our close proximity. Furthermore, this concept explains also why in reality do not exist all these naive paradoxes of time travel, which were invented by overenthusiastic authors of "science fiction" books, and which are quoted sometimes by orthodox scientists as supposed arguments against possibility of the eventuation of time travel. (An example of these "paradoxes", is a hypothetical situation when a time traveller supposedly killed his grandfather in order to discover later that he himself does exist anymore.) So let us examine here more thoroughly what actually the Concept of Dipolar Gravity states about these paradoxes.

If trees were the most advanced life form on Earth and could develop intelligence, most probably they would speculate about the possibilities of ordinary travel in space. But without knowing the laws involved in moving from place to place, their speculations would have no limits and would probably be full of paradoxes and unreal ideas. Studying these speculations one perhaps could learn that a tree which moves to the opposite hemisphere must die, because its roots would be pointed into the air while its leaves would be submerged in soil, or that exceeding the speed of sound is impossible because this speed represents a limitative constant of nature, while the tree that would accomplish it would pile up the wave of sound in which the pressure would increase infinitively so that this tree would be blown apart, or even that a tree which moves into a different location must simultaneously exist in two realities (i.e. the old and a new one). The same happens with our present ideas on time travel. Because we are not aware of the laws and restrictions that govern this means of travel, we tend to misuse our imagination and impose no limits on our speculations. In this way various overenthusiastic science fiction creators, additionally manipulated by "simulations" of UFO-nauts, introduced many erroneous ideas as "grandparent paradox", "multiplied existence", or "parallel realities". These ideas deviate and confuse our understanding of time travel. Let us remind briefly each of these paradoxes.

(1) Grandparent paradox. It considers the situation of a time traveller who kills his or her own grandparent. After coming back to his or her own time, this traveller could find himself or herself to be non-existent.

(2) Multiplied existence. This one claims, that during a time travel we could find ourselves already existing in a destination time and place, only that we would be over there in our different age and preoccupied with activities that we carried out in that age. So we would exist in more than one copy at the same time, namely in our old (or future) copy, plus in further numerous copies of these ourselves that would visit that particular other time. Just such a "multiplied existence" was even marginally illustrated in the film "Back To The Future" (1985, action, science-fiction, with Michael J. Fox in the main role). Namely, the film shows a teenager named "Marty McFly" who, amongst others, just returned to "his times" from a trip to past. But his return occurred several minutes earlier than the moment in which he went into this trip. Therefore, after the return he sees the second himself at the moment when this second "him" just is starting his trip to the past. In turn practically almost entire second film from the same series, namely "Back To The Future II" (of 1989), is based on the "multiplied existence" paradox. Thus, it shows NOT only Marty who sees himself in other times, but also shows Doc Brown who also sees second himself that existed in a different time, and even shows the girlfriend of Marty who sees herself in her adult version.

(3) Parallel realities. This idea claims that every action taken during time travel initiates another reality, whose course of events would differ from realities already in existence.

However, at this point it should be emphasized, that the definition of time flow in the Concept of Dipolar Gravity (i.e. "time is motionless, but we move through it"), and the technical restrictions imposed on time travel, eliminate completely paradoxes and dilemmas such as those listed above. To understand the work of these restrictions, it is enough to apply to time travel the principle of shifting to a different time described by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. And so, in order to move to a different time it is necessary to shift the "execution control" from our "program of life and fate" to a command that is different than the command which just should be completed. But similarly as shifting the "execution control" in a contemporary computer program is unable to change the operation (algorithm) constituting this program (although it can impact the data input and the result yield by this program), also our shifting to a different time is unable to change the content of motionless "timespace" (although it can alter the fate or path of a given person moving through the time). An excellent analogy which illustrates the limitations of the time travel is the comparison of "timespace" to a kind of permanent landscape, and then to see someone's time travel as one of many different ways of moving through this landscape. Similarly as a traveller who moves through some sort of landscape, is not able to change this landscape into another one, although is able to change some small parts of it (e.g. remove or plant trees, or build a road), also a person who travels in time is unable to form a completely different or new timespace, although he or she can interact with some elements of timespace in which he or she is moving. The effect of these limitations is the complete elimination of chances for "parallel realities", for a "multiple existence", and for a "grandparent paradox". Let us explain now more extensively why none of these paradoxes may occur in the real time travel.

(Re. 1) "Grandparent paradox" is physically impossible to take place. The above descriptions of principles of time travel reveal that an "interactive travel in time" (i.e. a travel in which the traveller can take part in the events he or she watches) is possible only between time points through which a given person already lived in his or her "normal" life. To explain this limitation, in order to instantly shift time backward or forward, we need to shift the "execution control" from our "program of life and fate" to a completely different command than the command which just supposed to be executed. But this completely different command still must exist in our "program of life and fate". In other words, for our shift to another time was possible, the time to which we are jumping must be included into the scope and commands of our "program of life and fate". This in turn means, that it is necessary that we already lived "normally" through the time points to which we are jumping. Practically it means, that we are unable to shift someone's time beyond life-span of this person, and that all shifts can be achieved only between time points which we have already reached in our preceding life. The result is that such a time traveller is physically unable to shift to time from before his or her birth, nor to kill own grandfather before his or her own conception.

(Re. 2) "Multiplied existence" is contradictive to the idea of time travel. After all, in order to e.g. see ourselves in another point of time, our travel in time would NOT be able to change the speed and the direction of the elapse of our personal time. In other words, in spite that we would be able to travel through time, still the unforgiving elapse of time of our lives would take place. In the result, after our own time would run out, we would get old and needed to die. Thus our ability to travel through time would change nothing from our course of life. It would only allow us to watch ourselves in our young age, or to see various historic events. But even when seeing these events we would be too afraid to change anything out of them, because it could bring a catastrophe to our own life, or to life of our close ones.

(Re. 3) "Parallel realities" would destroy principles and mechanisms of the formation and existence of the universe. For example, it is known that in order any reality could eventuate, there must be also a world in which it takes place. It is also known, that our world cannot be created from nothing, but it requires matter, energy, space, etc. So if we really form another "parallel reality" with every our new action in a different time, this would mean that we would also form an entire different universe with its mass, new amount of energy, new space, new galaxies and suns, new civilisations, etc. If we should believe in the scientific theories of the "big bang" regarding the creation of the universe, then every our new action in a different time would form another "big bang" and another universe. Then this new universe would need develop for billions of years so that a new reality which we just created could eventuate in it. Means that every traveller in time would be like God - means would be able to create many new universes, and to await until these new universes are ripe for making happen his new realities.

The principle of time travel described above, causes also that after we build time vehicles, given travellers can live forever only through the repetitive shifting their lives back to the young ages, and then reliving their own lives again a countless number of times. But they are always prisoners of their own times, i.e. they can live infinitively long, but their lifespan is not extended. And this we actually observe in the action in "simulations" of UFOs, described in "Part #D" of this web page.

#C3.1. Remotely controlled "assassination of the grandfather" - means the use of time vehicles for undoing events which already happen:

The essence and the most vital reason for strangeness of the "grandfather paradox" described in item #C3 before, boils down to the fact that someone kills the grandfather with his own hands, in order to find himself later nonexistent. Thus the strangeness of this paradox is based on the same principle as a "physical lifting ourselves by pulling up our hair". In such formulation of this paradox, time vehicles described here make it impossible - as this is explained in item #C3 above.

However, the time vehicles described here allow completely different getting rid of this grandfather, e.g. through arranging a remotely controlled assassination of him. Namely someone who shifted to times of the youth met over there bandits who know his grandfather. So he can convince these bandits to shifty back in time and kill this grandfather. In turn when this happen, this conspirer in fact will find himself nonexistent. Only that in such implementation this is no longer the "grandfather paradox", but an undoing events which already happen. The time vehicles described here allow such undoing of events, and even make from them a completely "normal" activity of "immortals". It is also frequently used in practice - for descriptions of examples see item #D6 of this web page. Such an undoing represents also an essence of activities of so-called "time carriers" described in item #D5 of this web page.

#C4. How our future "time vehicles" are going to look-like:

The name "time vehicle" is going to be assigned in future to any technical device, which is provided with a capability to manipulate on the elapse of time. (For this reason, the best time vehicles will be surgically implanted into bodies of their users - thus taking the shape of "personal time vehicles".) In turn such capabilities to manipulate on time are going to have magnetic devices called the "Oscillatory Chambers of the third generation" (more extensively described on the separate web page named immortality.htm). For this reason, a time vehicle can become any technical device which is going to contain inside these Oscillatory Chambers of the third generation. But amongst a huge number of technical devices which in the future are going to contain these chambers inside, one their group especially well suits the requirements of becoming time vehicles. These devices especially suitable for becoming time vehicles, are space vehicles called "Magnocrafts". The point is that Magnocrafts are spaceships which can fly through vacuum of cosmic space. In turn time vehicles, independently from the ability to travel in time, must also display the ability to conventionally travel in space.

To summarise the above, time vehicles are going to be called spaceships which presently are known under the name of Magnocrafts, and which apart from the ability to travel through space, obtained also the ability to travel in time by becoming supplied with special devices called Oscillatory

Chambers of the third generation. How such real time vehicles are to look-like during initiation of their flights in time, it is illustrated in photographs from "Fig. #G1ab" of the totaliztic web page immortality.htm.

#C5. Practical applications of the ability of our time vehicles to shift back in time:

My research reveal that changes in the natural elapse of time can be caused technically and utilised in countless number of practical applications! The most interesting fact which emerges from my research on time is that this extraordinary software phenomenon can be induced in a technical manner. In order to form a technical change in the elapse of time, it is enough to "deform magnetic field". All objects that are contained within such deformed magnetic field, are experiencing a shifting in time. This possibility of creating technical version of elapse of time introduces enormous potentials for our civilisation. This is because it allows to utilise time travel for various applications. Let us list here the most important of such applications:

1. Shaping out the future. Without time travel, whatever we do is irreversible. But if it is possible to shift time back and forth, we can shape our future as it pleases us. For example, if something does not go to our satisfaction, we can shift time backward, and have another go at it. From my research it emerges, that "simulations" of UFO-nauts are currently doing this with us (just for this particular reason UFO-nauts so thoroughly hide from people). Whatever do not pleases "simulations" of UFO-nauts, they shift time backward and change it into something else that is agreeable with their occupational interests on Earth - for actual examples see item #D6 in further parts of this web page.

2. The repair of past errors. When people already have time vehicles in their disposal, then they are able to repair all errors that they committed in their lives. It suffices that at the moment when they realise making a given error, they shift back in time to the moment of time which proceeds the committing of this error, and in a new passage of time they act in such a manner that this error is not made.

3. Propulsion of space vehicles. The technically induced change of time can also be used for propelling purposes, as a very useful principle of returning from distant destinations. There are flying vehicles called the Magnocrafts, which are capable of time travel. These vehicles are able to shift people to, or from, distant star systems, simply by shifting them back in time. The principle of this shifting is explained in item #C6 of this web page, under the name "one-way trip". In turn a brief description of the design and operation of Magnocrafts is provided on separate web pages on Magnocrafts, as well as in subsection D10.1 of monograph [8]"Totalizm". It is also described in monographs [1e] and [2e]. Notice that a very extensive description of Magnocrafts is provided in chapter G of [monograph \[1/5\]](#). It is worth to add, that in subsection P2 of the same monograph [1/5], a formal scientific proof is presented, which states that "UFOs are Magnocraft already build by some other cosmic civilisation". (This proof is an equivalent to the finding, that UFO-nauts have currently "time vehicles" in their disposal.)

4. Saving lives. Whenever there is an accident, time travel can return victims back to life and to health. It is enough to shift time back, and victims are alive and healthy again. Then the reasons for the accident need to be removed. Therefore, after time travel is mastered, accidents and sicknesses can be eliminated completely from human lives, through elimination of reasons for these at times when they are still in the initial stage of their formation.

5. Reviving dead. Time travel allows also to revive people who just died. It is enough to shift backward in time, to the moment of time when they were alive, and then eliminate the reason for their death.

6. Living forever (immortality). Time travel allows to accomplish the oldest dream of humanity, namely the never-ending life. After all, when someone's life approaches the ending, it is always possible to shift this person back in time and to allow him or her to pass through the life again. Slightly more about such never-ending life accomplished through repetitions of the reliving it infinitive number of times, is contained in subsection E1 of monograph [8] "Totalizm".

* * *

Time travel can also be utilised in countless other areas. More details on the practical utilisation of time and travel in time are provided in volume 7 of monograph [8] Totalizm.

#C6. What observable effects a nearby use of time vehicles is going to induce:

For a civilisation like ours, which has not developed yet the capability to travel in time, it is immensely important to accumulate the knowledge needed to detect the activity of time vehicles build by other civilizations. The Concept of Dipolar Gravity (see item #B3) allows to foresee a few distinct phenomena already now, which will be observable by outside witnesses, and the noticing of which is a sign of the use of a time vehicle in a close proximity. Three most distinctive out of these phenomena can be called (1) the "state of suspended animation", (2) the "one way trip", and (3) the "effect of time duplication". External manifestations of these three phenomena are to be presented below.

The "state of suspended animation" can be explained on an example of a case when the reader can see consequences of it. So let us assume that the reader is at this moment in a busy office, and that this office is entered and inspected by some intruders, who have a "time vehicle" (e.g. by UFO-nauts). In order to remain unnoticed while inspecting this office, these intruding owners of time vehicles changed their speed of time lapse. They accelerated the lapse of their own time, leaving the time of the rest of the office to elapse at its normal speed. Therefore, while for the entire office only a few microseconds passed, the intruders experience events that for them may occupy several hours. In this way no one in the office has enough time to notice the presence of these intruders. But if by an accident, someone in the office was too close to the intruders when they were changing the speed of their own time, the time of this person from the office would also become accelerated. In such a case, this chance observer of a time vehicle in action would be surprised to notice a view, that would resemble him or her a film that was suspended on a single frame. All his or her colleagues and everything in the office, would appear strangely suspended in motion in very inconvenient positions that they would have in a given moment of time. The boss, just coming through the door, has one leg lifted in the air, looking grotesque standing on the other. The fast typist is frozen motionless with fingers suspended above the keys. The water that someone pours would freeze half way between the teapot and a cup. A paper ball thrown by a colleague would stay in the midair suspended a few centimetres above the rubbish tin. There would be almost an absolute silence. (But because sound waves would be slowed down, a kind of weak "squelch" or "grit" could be heard, which by eye witnesses is described as a sound similar to the noise made during "walking in gumboots full of water" - e.g. see paragraph {3070} from subsection B1, and also subsection C1, in the Polish treatise [3b].) This strange sound is also discussed briefly in item #B1 from the web page about bandits amongst us.) Such a suspension of motion would prevail until the intruders would depart. When the intruders would finish their inspection and depart, everything would rapidly return to normal. All the events described above would continue their course from the point at which they were suspended. The only record that anything at all has occurred, would remain in this person's memory (if this memory is not intentionally erased by the departing intruders) and in his or her personal watch, which together with the person's body, would also be accelerated in time.

In the manner similar to that described above, the time vehicles are able also to cause the "state of accelerated animation", when the elapse of time of the person who uses a time vehicle, is slowed down in comparison to the elapse of time in his or her surrounding. (Thus all the activities he or she observes in this environment will look as if someone accelerated their speed. Note that sometimes in television they show such films where people move and act funny at accelerated speeds. This is how the surroundings would look-like then.) Such a state of accelerated animation can be highly useful for example during a slow crossing through a wall, when after it is introduced for the person that moves, it allows to not breathe inside of the wall (as for this person who crosses the wall, the entire crossing takes an equivalent to a fraction of second). In case of "simulations" of UFO-nauts, for some reasons they use this state relatively frequent, for example for decrease of efficiency of people who are acting against their interests. If they are able to delay the elapse of time for a given person, so that when outside elapses for example 8 hours, for this person elapsed only 4 hours, then the efficiency of actions of so demobilised person is decreased by at least a half, and no-one notices this.

One of the most noticeable symptoms, that in our vicinity one of these two states (i.e. suspended or accelerated animation) was just used, is the change of indications of time in a nearest clock or watch that was inside of the sphere of influences of a time vehicle. If the change of time introduced by such a vehicle includes also such a clock or watch, then it is recorded in the indications of this clock or watch (in comparison to other watches or clocks that remain outside of the sphere of time change). Thus, this clock or watch shows a time that is either accelerated in relationship to the normal time (when it was included into the state of suspended animation), or is slowed down in relationship to the normal time (when it was included into the state of accelerated animation). Simultaneously, after this rapid acceleration or stopping of the time finishes in a given clock or watch, the further work of this clock is going to occur with a normal speed. Thus the clock is going to maintain later the same time shift (in order to decrease the chance of detecting such manipulations on time, intruding UFO-nauts frequently accelerate or decelerate time by a full one hour). Thus, if in our vicinity such a change of time in a watch or clock is rapidly discovered, then this is a sign, that we were subjected to an action of "time vehicles" of "simulations" of UFO-nauts. From the amount of time our watch or clock is shifted in time, we can determine what was our acceleration or deceleration of time. Thus, we can also deduce the probable reason, why these UFO-nauts intruded our space. (I.e. whether it was our abduction - which usually takes around one hour, or crossing the wall of our house by a time vehicle - which usually takes just several minutes, or intentional delay of our personal time in order to decrease our efficiency in the work which runs against interests of the cosmic occupants - in such a case the delay of our clock may amount to several hours.)

The "one way trip". The state of suspended animation described above is only the first of numerous extraordinary advantages offered by time vehicles in comparison to conventional or telekinetic means of travel. Another very important their ability is the "one way trip" advantage. This particular capability of time vehicles depends on the completion of physical travel in one direction only, i.e. to a chosen destination, whereas the return trip is obtained not by means of actual travel, but by shifting time back to the point when the whole trip began. In order to express the above in simple words, the "one way trip" depends on physical travelling in one direction only, and on the controlling of time (shifting it back) in order to bring a person to the point from which a given trip was started.

In order to understand the principles involved in such "one way trips", it is necessary to remind ourselves the definition of time provided by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. (It is provided in items #B3 and #B5 of this web page, and also in subsection H9.1 from volume 4 of monograph [1/5].) This definition says that the "time is the flow of execution control through our counter material (software) duplicates". The understanding of this definition is more easy if the reader is aware of the similarity of our counter material duplicates contained in another parallel world, to contemporary computer programs working in the so-called "real time". As we know, such programs are composed of sequences of individual instructions, which are executed by the computer one after the other. The Concept of Dipolar Gravity teaches us, that the elapse of time can be compared to the flow of execution control through the subsequent instructions of such programs. In this Concept of Dipolar Gravity, the computer program represents a stationary "timespace", while the execution control that runs this program and thus that shifts through the subsequent actions (instructions) of this program, represents the elapse of time. According to the above analogy that stems from the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, "time is motionless, while we are moving through the time" (or more strictly the execution control from our counter-material duplicates is shifting through the timespace). In this aspect the dipolar understanding of time is opposite to the popular understanding of it. In the popular understanding of time, we are standing motionless, while time is "flowing" around us. One of the consequences of the dipolar understanding of time, is that it indicates the manner of travelling in time. Although the Concept of Dipolar Gravity states, that in our set of dimensions elapse of time occurs in one direction only (therefore, in our physical world it is impossible to change the elapse of time), in other set of dimensions, i.e. in the counter-world, it is possible to control time in every possible direction, i.e. its shifting back, shifting forth, accelerating, and also slowing down.

According to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, the technical travel through time boils down to the shifting an execution control to the previously "labelled" point of timespace. In the understanding of principles of such shifting of control, again very useful is the similarity between our counter-material duplicates to computer programs. As we know, in computer programs it is possible to return to any point of execution, simply by placing a "label" at the beginning of a given sequence of operations, and then by completing an unconditional jump to this label. Exactly the same happens with the time vehicles. They label a certain point in someone's execution sequence (i.e. a certain point in time), and then they execute the shift of this person's execution control back to that label. The person whose software model is subjected to such a process, perceives it simply as the shifting back of time. Therefore, if some technically advanced creatures who have a time vehicle at their disposal, wish to take a particular person for a trip, they only need to attach a "label" to his or her execution sequence. Then, when the trip is completed, instead of travelling back with this person, they simply shift his or her execution control to that label. In the final effect a person who completed such a trip remembers only the way in one direction (this is because the physical way back does not occur at all), and also after the return he or she discovers with a surprise, that the actual time is the same or even earlier than the exact time when a given trip began.

The "one way trip" capability of time vehicles allows for carrying out abductions, which take up no recordable period of time. In these abductions chosen individuals are taken on a journey which, regardless of the duration, finishes at exactly the same time as it started. Thus, if during such an abduction someone would continuously observe the abductee, or even hold his or her hand, the observer would not be able to notice the absence, because for the sight and senses of this observer the abductee would continue the presence through the point in time when the abduction actually took place. The occurrence of such an abduction would be vigorously denied by investigators, as acknowledging it would contradict the most fundamental theories of contemporary orthodox science (which assume that it is time that "flows", whereas we stay motionless within this flow, thus moving in time is presently unexplainable). In my research I had opportunities to meet several reports from such timeless UFO abductions, unfortunately none of them was explained, or even understood by other researchers. An additional difficulty introduced to our research of such cases is, that "simulations" of UFO-nauts, usually erase memory of people who have already experienced such timeless abductions. Thus, because their memories have been erased at the point of return, neither they or anyone else are able to have any knowledge of the events that occurred. Even if on some rare occasions, the final memory erasure may fail or is incomplete, the incredible reports of abductees are not taken seriously as no one is prepared to believe their claims of having visited distant planets from other stars, while people close to them had insufficient time to blink their eyes. Especially as the person who tells the story explains with details the trip in one direction, but is unable to explain how he or she returned!

The principles of time travel described previously apply to the situation when time remains motionless but an active traveller moves through it. However, an opposite way of travelling is also possible, although technically more difficult. It depends on making timespace to dynamically "wave", while a traveller remains motionless. An example of this kind of time travel would be phenomena occurring during the explosion or starting of time vehicles. One of the most frequently occurring of these type of phenomena is another manifestation of time vehicles called here the "effect of time duplication". This effect can most simply be explained by the example of an analogy of time vehicle to a motorboat that is resting in a waveless lake (the surface of this lake represents timespace). If this motorboat rapidly begins to move, it induces waves on the lake. These waves would also toss about an outside observer that was floating in the water and watching the boat. To interpret the above analogy to time vehicles, if such a vehicle causes a rapid "deformation" of time, then an observer from the vicinity of this vehicle will be included into time waves so induced. For the observer these time waves will be perceived as multiple repetitions of the same sequence of events. For example, if the observer heard in a radio a specific song, saw in TV a specific sequence of events on a video clip, or saw a specific car passing by his or her window, after a while he or she will hear again the same song, see exactly the same sequence of events in TV, or see again the same car passing by. It is also worth to add, that because of the principles involved in the operation of time vehicles, which execute their changes of time by a "deformation" of the environmental magnetic field, the use of these vehicles is manifested only within the space where the environmental field is excited by their magnetic circuits. (Thus, the diameter of such sphere of influence is around 2 physical diameters of these vehicles.) Therefore all side effects described in this item can be by chance noticed by observers whose distance from a time vehicle is slightly smaller from this sphere of influence. For the case when personal time vehicles (i.e. those inserted surgically into users' body) are used, the sphere of such influence will not exceed around 4 meters from the alien user. Thus, a person who experiences one of the effects described earlier, can be sure that a time travelling intruder is really close.

#C7. The "imprisoned immortality":

Motto: "The expression 'everlasting happiness' is also a simplest description of the situation when inhabitants of a totalistic civilisation who mastered the skill of maintaining a continuous nirvana use time vehicles for repetitive renewal of their physical bodies, accomplishing in this manner immortality which becomes an everlasting time of indescribable happiness."

Time vehicles described in this Part #C, which operate on principles of the deformation of magnetic fields, allow to come true the oldest dream of people. This dream is to accomplish infinitively long life. The principle of giving to the users of these time vehicles the infinitively long lives is relatively simple. It boils down to a repetitive shifting a given person back in time during the final part of his or her life. The person is shifted back in time to the period when this person was young. In turn after this someone is shifted back in time, this person remembers his or her previous lives from previous passages of times, in exactly the same manner as if the living was continued through a normal elapse of time. Therefore people shifted back in time with a time vehicle again to years of their youth, still remember their previous part of life that they led as older people. In this way they are able to relive through their life any number of times, remembering each passage through it. So actual building of time vehicles gives people who have these vehicles in their disposal, a taste of accomplishing the immortality.

This form of immortality, accomplished through such repetitive shifting back in time, has however a limitation, which makes "prisoners of their own times" all these ones who utilise it. Means, these people may live infinitively long in total. However, their lives always remain limited to the same period of time. For example, they can only return back in time to the date, which must be later than their date of birth. They can also move forward in time no more than to the date when they died naturally. Thus, the outcome of this repetitive shifting back in time is a kind of "imprisoned immortality". Furthermore, during every shifting back in time, these people can take with them mainly their memories. (They take also with them everything that is resulting from their memory, namely their knowledge, life experience, character, weaknesses, prejudices, etc. - see item #C2 of this web page.) But they are unable to take with them anything else (material) - that they did not have already in times to which they just are returning. Thus, if e.g. in older age they meet some necessary technical device, which in times of their youth was not invented yet, or they had a favourite cat or beloved soul-mate which they got to know only in the final phase of their life, then after shifting back in time they lose all this and are forced to do without it until the time when they meet it again in the later phase of their life. (They can also not meet it at all - if in a new passage of time they choose a different path through the life than the path which they followed in the previous passage through time.) Such a limitation and consequences of this "imprisoned immortality" accomplished via time vehicles working on the principle of deformation of magnetic fields described here, impose a special kind of psychological strain onto people who utilise it. In the result of this strain, not for all people this "imprisoned immortality" turns out to be a blessing. Some people, especially those who practice in life the philosophy called parasitism, actually can perceive it as a kind of curse. Means, they will not be able to resist using repetitively this form of immortality - like it was an addiction, but it is going to make them increasingly more unhappy.

If a given consumer of the "imprisoned immortality" practices in his or her life the philosophy called totalism, and has a good fortune to live in a totalistic civilisation, then this form of immortality becomes a true blessing for him or for her. After all, due to leading a pedantically moral life, such someone is going to maintain the state of nirvana the entire his or her life through. So he or she is continually happy, cheerful, and optimistic. Everything satisfies him or her, while his or her soul is not forcing him or her to seek anything better than whatever is already there. Furthermore, such someone continually tries to improve his or her morality, goodness, and the level of perfection. Thus, together with the accumulation of the knowledge and life experience, such someone becomes increasingly productive for his or her surroundings. All others appreciate him or her increasingly more and always want him or her to be with them forever. In the result, for members of totalistic civilisations the accomplishing of the "imprisoned immortality" described here is a blessing which allows them to lead infinitively long and indescribably happy lives. Slightly more about the "everlasting happiness" that members of such civilisations then experience, is explained in item #F2 of a separate web page about God. In fact, for these people such limited form of immortality in practice turns out to be equally perfect and effective as the true immortality described in item #E3 of this web page. However, the key for such an imprisoned immortality to become a blessing, is the ability of people to maintain themselves in the state of continuous nirvana. In turn, to be able to continually earn for themselves this nirvana, it is absolutely essential that these people live in the society which practices the philosophy of totalism.

However, if a given user of the "imprisoned immortality" practices in his or her life the philosophy called parasitism, and also lives in a parasitic society, than this limited form of immortality with the elapse of time turns out to be a kind of curse for him or for her. After all, the life in a parasitic society makes impossible for him or her to accomplish a nirvana. In turn without a nirvana, such someone is all time pulled apart by desires and needs impossible to be satisfied, which eat him or her alive. Because such someone never is able to have everything that is continually desiring, with the elapse of time these unsatisfied desires make permanent changes in his or her psychological makeup. On the other hand, in spite of shifting back in time, the psychology, memory, and needs of such people remain unchanged. Also, as their longevity progresses, their attributes and character becomes increasingly evil and unpleasant. So a time arrives one day, when they become too uncontrollable and too unbearable to other their countrymen, while their life becomes a kind of hell. Thus either themselves voluntarily, or with a delicate push by their countrymen who cannot tolerate their unpleasantness anymore, their life is terminated - in spite that they could live infinitively. In the result for members of a parasitic civilisation, the accomplishing of an "imprisoned immortality" described here is a kind of disguised curse and cheat, which theoretically could give them infinitively long lives, but which in practice drowns them in suffering and hell of increasingly higher unsatisfied desires, increasingly less fulfilled ambitions, and increasingly more powerful feeling of unhappiness, and thus which sooner or later must be terminated with a death. Slightly more about the "everlasting hell" that members of such civilisations then experience, is explained in item #F3 of a separate web page about God. So in fact, in civilisations which practice parasitism, this imprisoned immortality - similarly as everything else that they accomplish, is only a kind of illusion, cunningness, and theory. In practice, life of each citizen of such civilisations is limited and always finishes with a death, only that lasts a bit longer than it would normally, and that it spreads amongst all involved much more destruction and suffering than it should. However, what is even worst, with the progressing number of subsequent repetitions of lives by citizens of such parasitic civilisations, the level of immorality, unsatisfied desires, and the feeling of unhappiness in these citizens is increasingly growing. In the result, such a civilisation with the elapse of time must blow itself up - as this is explained in item #D8 below of this web page.

Because of this ability of imprisoned immortality, to push the civilisation which uses it into the grip of "everlasting hell", at this point I have an appeal to our descendants who will build time vehicles. Namely, I beg them that under NO excuse they may allow to shift back in time a person which at the moment of shifting is unable to prove that just experiences nirvana.

An example of civilisation which right now experiences such imprisoned immortality are these "simulations" of UFOnavts whose descriptions are provided in Part #D of this web page.

#C7.1. The group responsibility of members of civilisations which practice "imprisoned immortality":

In civilisation like ours, everyone takes his or her own responsibility for own fate. So if in all actions he or she pedantically obeys moral laws, then he or she lives a happy and fulfilled live. But if he or she breaks moral laws, then his or her life transforms into a misery and a string of disasters. However, at the moment when a given civilisation builds time vehicles, while members of it accomplish the access to "imprisoned immortality", this individual responsibility is replaced by the one which is best described by well-known saying "all for one, one for all". For example, in this new system of responsibility every member of this civilisation is shifted back in time and receives immortality only if remaining members of this civilisation judge, that he or she fulfils criteria imposed onto this shifting back in time - for example when he or she proves in own life that is able to maintain a continuous state of totaliztic nirvana. In turn every member of this civilisation obtains then an access to such enormous energies and destructive capabilities, that is able to blow up the entire own civilisation whenever wishes. Also every member of this civilisation bases his or her immortal life on the "grace" of members who lead the same immortal lives before him or her. This is because if any of these previous also immortal members of a given civilisation that still exist in a previous point of time of the same civilisation, rapidly decides to blow own civilisation up, then all these descendants who exist and live immortal lives in later points of time of the same civilisation, rapidly also cease to exist - as this is explained in next item #C8 of this web page.

#C8. The "non-existing existence" of evil civilisations which practice the "imprisoned immortality" without accomplishing previously a nirvana:

Accomplishing the totaliztic nirvana turns out to be the decisive factor which determines the further fate of every civilisation that reached the level of the "imprisoned immortality". If a given civilisation creates in itself such a moral climate, that every member of this civilisation continually maintains the state of totaliztic nirvana, then members of this civilisation live infinitively long while being infinitively happy. Furthermore, with the elapse of time they earn for themselves the true immortality described in item #E3 of this web page. But if a given civilisation begins to repetitively shift back in time its members without making sure that each of the shifted back in fact acquired the ability to earn and to continually maintain the state of totaliztic nirvana, then the moral level of this civilisation begins to drop, until this civilisation become the indescribably evil - as I explained this in item #D9 of this web page. In turn such an evil civilisation after a number of shifts back in time all its members finally blows itself up. After all, with each such a shift back members of this civilisation become increasingly more unhappy and increasingly more evil towards each other, but they simultaneously have increasingly more powerful tools of destruction. In turn at the moment when they actually blow themselves up, the laws that govern over time cause that the universe transforms in such a manner as if this particular civilisation never existed at all. Because for such a satanic civilisations it is only a matter of number of repetitions of the life of their members before they actually blow themselves up, in fact these satanic civilisation which practice the "imprisoned immortality" supposedly do exist and supposedly carry out their evil, but in fact they are already non-existent. So each member of these evil civilisations takes part in a kind of the "non-existent existence". Means, this member does exist until the moment in time when his civilisation blows itself up, then it turns out that in fact he never existed. This is because in the universe there will be no sign of his existence and activity. Because through the repetitive shifting back in time, his existence is like suspended in the same point of time, in which later it turns out that he never existed, the existence of every member of this civilisation is as if he or she really never existed.

Very interesting is the natural mechanism with the use of which this "non-existing existence" of members of evil civilisations which practice the imprisoned immortality is implemented. This mechanism in itself is so extraordinary, that it bits all the "paradoxes of time travel" which were invented by authors of "science fiction" and which are described in item #C3 of this web page. In order to realise here at least the most vital points why it is extraordinary, now I explain briefly what it is about. If we would to compare to something a civilisation like ours, which still does NOT have time vehicles, then a good comparison would be a mole which makes its passage under the ground. Similarly as for this mole, in such civilisation at any moment of time exists and lives only a short number of generations, which make changes in the universe which surrounds them and thus leave behind a trail which certifies that they existed. Behind them on the path which they passed lives nor exists nothing apart of marks of their activities.

Similarly in front of them also exists nothing. So when any ancestor of this "mole" rapidly gets crazy and decides to blow himself up, he would NOT be able to do this for a simple reason that he would be dead for a long time. Means, in such a civilisation of mere mortals ancestors are NOT a threat to anyone. But a completely different situation is in a civilisation which already uses time vehicles. If we would also seek a comparison that would describe such a civilisation that already practices the imprisoned immortality, then the best comparison would be a tapeworm. The head of this tapeworm is this particular generation which build the first time vehicle, and to which applies the expression "final judgement" explained in item #F1 of this web page. Every next segment of this tapeworm is a generation of this civilisation which was born from the previous generation that already have time vehicles. So similarly like a tapeworm, this civilisation at any moment of time does exist on the entire its length. Means, in every moment of time not only the descendants do exist, but also all the ancestors starting from the moment when time vehicles entered the public use. After all, these ancestors are also immortal. Only that at very end of this "tapeworm" - which is opposite to the head hooked in a single point of time, periodically new segments are growing which represent next new generations of members of this civilisation. So when in the result of drop in the level of morality, any segment of this tapeworm blows itself up, then disappears not only this segment, but also all other segments which were born after this particular one. After all, these next segments existed only because this blown up segment did exist previously. In such civilisation which uses time vehicles ancestors represent the same threat as a given generation. At any moment of time these ancestors can blow themselves up. In this way they blow up also all these who were born from them and who started their immortal lives from them. Thus in such an immortal civilisation each generation of owners of time vehicles like "lives on mercy" of their own ancestors.

Independently from this web page, the topic of "non-existing existence" is also discussed (although from different points of view) at totaliztic web pages god.htm - about scientific and secular understanding of God (see there item #D7), and also parasitism.htm - about the philosophy of parasitism (see there item #E5).

#C9. "Time black hole" in evil civilisations which practice the "imprisoned immortality" without accomplishing a nirvana:

Members of evil civilisations which practice "imprisoned immortality" for the first time do not need to blow themselves up at the beginning of the chain of generations which already have time vehicles. (Means not always they need to blow themselves up at the head of this "tapeworm" described in the previous item

#C8.) In fact, there is a significant probability that the first blowing themselves up occurs somewhere near the final generation which uses time vehicles. After all, together with the number of generations both their evilness increases, as well as increases the destructive power which each member of these civilisations actually has. So starting from the generation which blown itself up, such a civilisation ceases to exist. But still for a number of repetitions of their lives must exist in it these generations which proceeded the one that blown itself up. For these proceeding generations the point in time in which this civilisation blown itself up turns to be a kind of "time black hole". Namely every member of this civilisation who shifts to this period of time, will not be able to return from this black hole. So all these who visit this black hole with their time vehicles, will simply cease to exist. Thus generations which proceed the one which blown itself up, will be able to just speculate what actually happened, but will never be able to learn facts nor truth.

The appearance of such a "time black hole" in the future of any evil civilisation which practices "imprisoned immortality" is a kind of the "last warning" which receive generations of this civilisation that still exist before this black hole. After all, the appearance of this black hole in one point of the generational tapeworm of this civilisation actually means that soon another such a black hole is going to appear amongst generations which still do exist. For these still existing members of a given evil civilisation such a hole is a messenger for the beginning of their end - unless they are still able to afford the earning of permanent totaliztic nirvana.

Of course, for members of this immortal "tapeworm" it becomes easy to detect, that such a time black hole in fact already appeared in their tapeworm. After all, before it appears, these "time carriers" which are described in item #D5 of this web page, are able to pass information in both directions from any point in time to all other points in time. But when this time black hole rapidly appears, then a kind of motionless barrier will appear in the future of this civilisation, from behind which none information can return back to the bottom of this generational "tapeworm".

#C10. How time vehicles are going to cause the "rising people from graves":

Motto: "If you wish to belong to an elite group of people which in the result of 'shifting back' the technology of building time vehicles are going to be returned to the everlasting life, you must already now become known as a person who actively promotes moral live and who is a role model for a moral behaviour."

The building of time vehicles on Earth is going to cause an extraordinary phenomenon of "shifting back in time" of the technology of building time vehicles. This shifting back technology is going to manifest itself in such a manner, that each time bodies of builders of these vehicles are returned to the time of their youth, time vehicles are going to be build several years earlier. This increasingly earlier building of time vehicles is going to be caused by two factors. Firstly, each time after the builders of time vehicles are moved back in time, they will perfectly remember from the previous lives how to build these vehicles. So they are going to be able to build them faster, means also earlier. Secondly, their purely human feelings to those their close ones, who died only because time vehicles were still unavailable, will mobilise them to undertake even more intense efforts to build time vehicles much earlier. In the result of these two factors, the date when time vehicles become build, is going to be gradually moved backward. Of course, this movement backward is going to have a limit, which is to be defined by the view of the world in people who gradually are going to be called to the earlier building of time vehicles. I estimate, that this limiting view of the world is going to be placed at my (and ours) generation of people. After all, it is my (and ours) generation of people that was the first on Earth which began to use computers. Thus, it is also going to be the earliest generation on the Earth, which will be susceptible to the mobilisation from future generations to initiate earlier the building of time vehicles. In fact, from various own "recalls from the future" I suspect, that I am going to be included during one of these future passages of time into a team which is going to build time vehicles at an earlier date.

Because of this increasingly earlier building of time vehicles, an extraordinary phenomenon is going to take place on the Earth. Namely, some people who in "normal" passage of time will be forced to die - because during their "normal" life time vehicles were still not build, after the earlier building of time vehicles they become rapidly returned to life. Thus, such shifting back in time of the technology of building time vehicles is going to have this consequence, that many people who already died, rapidly "raise up from their graves". Of course, this "rising up from graves" will have a different character that we typically imagine it from descriptions in the Bible. In reality these people will awake like from a long dream and then they will continue their lives normally like nothing has happened. In turn, after such waking up they will discover, that their bodies are already younger than they remember having them before the death. Only the memory of many out of them will still remember that they already died some time before. All people who in this manner will "raise from graves" will NOT die again later, but will live forever repetitively shifted back in time after each reaching of a more senior time - as it is described in item #C7 of this web page.

Unfortunately, this "rising people from graves" is going to have a selective (elite) character. This means that NOT everyone is going to be returned to life within the scope of generations which will be included into this shifting back the technology of building time vehicles. Namely, only these people who let themselves know as either giving to others examples of moral lives, or become famous amongst others with their fight for the spread of morality, will selectively be returned to life (i.e. only these people, the level of morality in which is going to provide a guarantee, that they are able to earn the totalistic nirvana for themselves). The reason for such an elite character of these returned to life, will be the "final judgement" which is explained in item #F1 of this web page. Namely, if the verdict of this final judgement will be the "everlasting happiness" for the humanity, then only moral people will be returned to life during this shifting back the technology of time vehicles. In other words, the returned to such everlasting lives will be exclusively people who with their normal lives give their successors the guarantee, that after the return to life they are NOT going to spoil this verdict with their immoral behaviour. In turn if the verdict of the final judgement will be the "everlasting hell", then again the returned to life will be only moral people. The reason is that the future generations which then already will taste how this hell actually feels like, will exert an enormous pressure on these their ancestors, who are going to implement the shift back of the time vehicles' technology. Their pressure will request to return to life only moral people, or people who fought for morality on Earth. This is because by returning to life only moral people, these our descendants who will be sentenced to the "imprisoned immortality" will obtain a chance, that the previous verdict of the "final judgement" may become somehow invalidated and changed into the "everlasting happiness". So the outcome will be such, that independently of the verdict of the "final judgement" described in item #F1 below, returned to life always will be exclusively moral people. So if you, the reader, just in case, wish to be included into this elite group of selected people, then already now you need to let others know yourself as a person leading a very moral life, and also you need to show to others, that you actively fight to allow the morality to prevail on our planet.

The phenomenon of "rising of dead from graves" is also described briefly in item #F5 from the web page god.htm - about scientific and secular understanding of God.

#C11. So when our civilisation accomplishes time vehicles (and thus the immortality for all people):

My analyses of the so-called "Cyclic Table" discussed in chapter B from volume 2 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#) (also shown on a separate web page about propulsion systems), indicates that "time vehicles" in normal circumstances would be build in around 100 years after constructing Magnocrafts and after supplying Oscillatory Chambers of these Magnocraft into the capability to release the Telekinetic Effect. However, the most difficult obstacles on the path to building time vehicles, is to learn the mechanism of time and to develop the principle on which time vehicles operate. On the other hand, thanks to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, these two major obstacles are already removed. So in practice, if the humanity puts into the building of time vehicles the same amount of resources and determination, as it puts into wars and into the development of old-fashioned rocket propulsion, then my estimates suggest that time vehicles could be build in around 50 years after the construction of Magnocrafts. In turn these Magnocrafts could be build already now. Actually in times when I invented them, I still optimistically believed, that I will be able to build operational Magnocrafts still in the duration of my own life. Unfortunately, I did not know then yet, that people take a great pleasure in making redundant from jobs, murdering, or unleashing any other forms of persecution towards these ones amongst themselves who show the biggest creativity - as this is described this in item #11 of the separate web page about telekinetic cells. This is pitty, because if these my dreams could be fulfilled, then the access to time vehicles, and thus also the access to immortality, could still be accomplished by the generation of people which already is born on Earth.

Unfortunately, with the elapse of time it turned out, that the planet Earth is secretly occupied by our evil relatives which are described in item C of this web page. These our morally decadent relatives cause with their intrigues that instead of building the Oscillatory Chamber and Magnocraft, I spend the majority of my time as an unemployed scientist, or in places where I have no chances to undertake the building of devices which I invented. So it looks like, in reality, time vehicles can be build by humanity only after this point in time, in which our evil relatives blow their civilisation up - as I am describing this in item #D8 of this web page. Fortunately for us, this may happen relatively soon, as these our relatives already for a long time sit on a time bomb which may go off at any moment. So when we are waiting this to happen, in the meantime we should implement totalizm and the respect to moral laws in our everyday lives. This is because only when we consequently apply moral laws in our living, we make sure that our civilisation is not going to follow the unfortunate steps of these our evil relatives.

#C12. The passive replay of timely distant events:

All previous descriptions from this web page related to an interactive participation in the passage of time. This means, that the descriptions concerned such way of travelling in time, when a given traveller lives normally, only that is positioned in times which are different than these naturally designated for him or her (i.e. in times to which he or she was moved by a time vehicle). Thus, such a time traveller can normally interact with other people and all objects which exist in this different time. However, at this stage of presentation it is worth to add, that the Concept of Dipolar Gravity reveals also another kind of time travel. It could be called "the passive replay of timely distant events". This kind of time travel does not impose any restrictions regarding the time distance to which a given observer goes. But it limits the traveller to the role of a passive observer (witness) only. In the "analogy of shifting a program control" described above, this other means of time travel could be compared to the re-running a sequence of a given program, by some other program. Thus, this other program could show what results a given program would yield, but it is unable to actually identify itself (become) the program that is being run. To put this into another words, in this passive time travel, the traveller can only observe the course of events that occurred (or are going to occur), but he or she is unable to take part in these events or to impact their final outcome.

From the technical point of view, a device which is to be used for the purpose of implementing this kind of passive travelling in time, is going to be a kind of reversal of the device which is to implement the interactive travelling in time described before. (Means, this device will be like a reversal of "time vehicles".) If we would compare both these devices to something that we know from our present level of technology, then the "time vehicles" can be compared to kinds of "projectors". After all, they impose (i.e. "project") the location of the execution control in our natural programs from the counter-world. In turn the device for a passive replaying of timely distant events described here, can be compared to a reversal of projectors, means to "photo-cameras". After all, this device intercepts and illustrates in a picturesque form, events which are expressed in programs contained in the counter-world.

In reference to the so-called "grandparent paradox" described in item #C3 above, this "passive replay of timely distant events" would only allow one to observe his or her own grandparent in action, but it still would NOT allow to carry out any interactive interference with life of this grandparent, e.g. would NOT allow to kill him. So as we can see, the universe is perfectly protected against destructive interference in time by irresponsible time travellers.

Part #D: The body of evidence which confirms that some UFO vehicles work on principles of "time vehicles" described in previous parts of this web page:

#D1. Why the knowledge regarding our Magnocrafts allows us to decode secrets of UFOs much faster, while the knowledge of UFOs allows us to accelerate the construction of our Magnocrafts:

Motto: "The same technical device can be invented and constructed completely independently by a whole range of different civilisations which neither help each other nor even are friendly towards each other."

In item #C4 of this web page I explained, that in future our earthly "time vehicles" are going to assume the shape of flying space vehicles called Magnocrafts. These Magnocrafts are entirely Earth vehicles, i.e. they have been invented, developed, and are proposed to be build on Earth. But if one remembers unique attributes of these vehicles, it is enough to see headings of present newspapers, or glance at titles of various books, to realise, that vehicles identical to the Magnocrafts are observed operational on Earth from the beginning of time. These already existing vehicles identical to Magnocrafts, are described in there under the name of UFOs.

I had the honour of inventing and developing the Magnocrafts solely on the basis of my professional interests in propulsion systems, i.e. without any influence or inspiration from "simulations" of UFOs. At the beginning of my developmental work I accepted, that the Magnocraft is just going to be a flying successor for an electric motor. This is what suggested to me the analogies and symmetries expressed in the so-called "Cyclic Table" (shown in monograph [1/5] as Table B1, and as Table K1 for slightly a different application). In this initial stage of the development of the Magnocraft, I was completely unaware of the similarities that exist between Magnocraft and UFOs. This similarity become obvious only when the complete design and attributes of Magnocraft become deduced. Actually these similarities were pointed out to me only by readers of my articles, who claimed that they have actually seen the Magnocraft in operation with their own eyes - only they called it differently, i.e. "UFOs". Although at that stage I did not envisage any connection of my Magnocraft and UFOs, just in case there was one, I followed these claims of my readers and tried to identify the differences or similarities existing between both these vehicles. Soon afterwards, with the weight of the evidence that I collected, I realized that in fact there are unknown vehicles popularly called UFOs already operational on Earth, which display all the attributes that have been theoretically predicted for the Magnocraft. Subsequently the formal scientific proof that "UFOs are already operational Magnocraft" has been worked out and published (see also item #E3 from below this web page). The first version of this proof appeared in the article [1P] "Konstrukcja prosto z nieba" ("The design straight from heaven") published in the Polish Journal "Przegląd Techniczny Innowacje", no 12/1981, pp.43 5. Unfortunately, in this first presentation of the discussed proof, for reasons which are clear only after reading the web page evil, or chapter OD of monograph [1/5], the editor of the "Przegląd Techniczny Innowacje" would not publish drawings and photographs that were included to this article (similar to drawings and photographs that illustrate subsection P2 in [1/5]). Because of the lack of space, these photographs and drawings could not be also presented when the publication [1P] was then discussed in the article [2P] "Jak dowiedziono istnienia UFO" (i.e. "How the existence of UFOs was proven"), published in the magazine "Kurier Polski", no 119/1981, page 5. Thus, the complete version of this proof (together with a complete photographic and descriptive evidence) could be published only in New Zealand in the old monograph [1e] and in several other monographs that proceeded [1e] (see the list of these monographs provided in subsection F10 from [1/5]). The final proof presented in chapter P2 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#) is only an updated extension, with additional evidence, of this original proof firstly published in New Zealand in the old monograph [1e].

The formal proof that "UFOs are already operational Magnocraft" is a vital segment in the logical chain that forms the content of monograph [1/5] and this web page. (This is also the reason why in the next paragraph of this item the methodology of this proof is summarised, while the rest of this web page is based on findings which result from it). This is because the formal proof realises to us an immensely bitter truth. Namely, in connection with the evidence described in subsections P3.1 and P6.5 of monograph [1/5], it reveals that on the planet Earth a situation is "simulated" extremely realistically, as if the Earth is under a secretive occupation of UFOonauts which practice the philosophy called "evil parasitism". Thus, the bitter truth states that before the humanity is allowed to build "time vehicles" described here, firstly it must "solve" the problem of this secretive occupation.

The formal proof that "UFOs are already operational Magnocraft", presented in subsection P2 of the newest monograph [1/5], is based on a very old and countless times proven in action methodology adopted by present science and called the methodology of "matching the attributes". In this methodology two sets of independent attributes, which describe two different objects, are compared (matched) with each other, in order to prove that both these objects are identical. An oldest example of the use of this methodology would be an ancient hunter, who matches the attributes of a trail with attributes of an animal known to him, in order to determine as to whether this animal made the trail. This methodology is one of the most reliable, successful, and frequently used ways of identifying unknown objects. It is used in the majority of identification procedures, including criminal investigations (matching the evidence present in a site of crime with a suspect), medicine (matching symptoms with a disease), military reconnaissance, etc. In order to prove with this methodology that the Magnocraft and UFOs are identical vehicles, a total match between the theoretically deduced attributes of the Magnocraft and the observed attributes of UFOs has been documented and conclusively proven.

The methodology of "matching attributes" applied here to prove formally that "UFOs are Magnocraft which are already operational" also provides an additional benefit which should be explained here. It introduces the extremely important "postulate of interchangeability between UFOs and the Magnocraft". According to this postulate, "every correct equation, principle and fact established for the Magnocraft, must also apply to UFOs; as well, every fact observed on UFOs must apply to the Magnocraft". The practical utilization of this postulate on one hand allows for a faster progress in the building of our Magnocraft, through utilizing technical solutions that have already been implemented in UFOs. On the other hand it allows for the more rapid unveiling of the UFOs' secrets by applying to them all the findings concerning the Magnocraft.

For this web page the "postulate of interchangeability between UFOs and the Magnocraft" has this consequence that everything that here is written about the Magnocraft applies also to UFOs, and everything that here is explained about UFOs applies also to the Magnocraft.

#D2. The existence of UFO vehicles is a fact - it is confirmed by the Resolution of internet discussion list totalizm@hydepark.pl, about "recognising the Magnocraft as the technical explanation for UFOs":

A historic Resolution concerning UFOs and UFOonauts was voted and unaniously accepted on 24 March 2003. This Resolution is the first of its kind and so-far the only one in the world. With the common wisdom of representatives of the nation member of this list acknowledged that the theory of the spaceship of my invention called the Magnocraft proves with the sufficient certainty that UFO vehicles do exist objectively and that UFOonauts secretly operate on the Earth.

The indicated Resolution is so important for the research by the author of this web page, that it is quoted and commented on several other totaliztic web pages, e.g. on the pages ufo_proof.htm (see in there item #D2), explain.htm (see in there item #J2), telepathy.htm (see in there item #D2), telekinesis.htm (see in there item #I3), prawda_uk.htm (see in there item #G2), ufo.htm (see in there item #H2), sabotages.htm (see in there item #C7), military_magnocraft.htm (see in there item #D4), or antichrist.htm (see in there item #G6). (I recommend readers to have a look at some of these web pages). Therefore on this web page the content of this Resolution is NOT going to be repeated nor commented.

#D3. Which evidence confirms that "UFOs of the third generation" which can travel through time are already build and that they work as this is described here:

The orthodox science on the Earth accomplished a great success in telling all people that time cannot be controlled thus time vehicles cannot be ever build. Therefore the majority of us is extremely sceptical to every claim that such time vehicles actually already do exist and that their construction also by people is just only the matter of time. After all, the majority of people typically are unaware of facts which are explained on the web page named "evil". This means, that they are also unaware of the fact that the official human science and various leading scientists can be programmed to mislead people on purpose.

Fortunately for us, the possibility of building time vehicles was also analysed by the stream of development of our knowledge, which is alternative to the orthodox science and which is named the totaliztic science. (The name "totaliztic science originates from the fact, that the principles of this new science are based on the highly moral, progressive and constructive philosophy called totalizm - which is rejected by the orthodox science.) According to this totaliztic science, there are three separate groups of premises, which all unanimously confirm the actual possibility of building time vehicles, and even reveal various details of the design and operation of these vehicles. Here are these three groups of premises:

(i) Mechanism of the operation of time This mechanism is explained by the new theory of totaliztic science, called the "Concept of Dipolar Gravity". On this web page the Concept of Dipolar Gravity is explained in item #B3 above. According to the totaliztic explanation of this mechanism, time can be controlled, and this control is relatively easy. After all, in order to learn how to change the elapse of time, it is enough to master the introduction of changes into internal energy of magnetic field (or, to explain this more illustratively, we need to learn how to enter between force lines of the magnetic field, and then act between these force lines).

(ii) The Cyclic Table. This table is simply a kind of the "periodic table of the elements" (also called the "Mendeleyev Table"), only that instead of chemical elements it was developed for propulsion systems. Because of such a character, this table allows to make predictions regarding what propulsion systems are to be build in the future, if we only know principles of operation and characteristics of the propulsion systems which already were completed in our past. One of such propulsion systems awaiting to be build relatively soon, are time vehicles. In fact, this table provides us even with guidelines as to on what principles of operation time vehicles are going to be based. The Cyclic Table is shown and discussed in item #5 of the internet web page about propulsion systems.

(iii) The sightings of time vehicles in operation. The most reliable, however, confirmation of the fact that time vehicles can be build, stems from sightings of "UFOs of the third generation". As it turns out, these "UFOs of the third generation" frequently fly over the Earth in the so-called "convention of time vehicles". In such cases they form all effects sighted during shifting time back, forward, accelerating, and slowing down the elapse of time. An example of such a UFO flying in the convention of a time vehicle is shown in "Fig. #F2a" from the web page explain.htm - about scientific interpretation of authentic photographs of UFOs in the light of "Theory of the Magnocraft". Next items of this "part #D" of the web page, present most representative examples when UFOs completed a work of time vehicles.

The most commonly encountered manifestation of the technical alteration of the elapse of time induced by nearby operation of UFOs working as time vehicles, is the situation which in item #C6 of this web page is called the "effect of time duplication". This effect manifests itself the most clearly when, e.g. while watching TV, listening to radio, or looking through a window, we rapidly notice, that the same sequence of film, sounds, or situation, was repeated twice. Without realising this, in such moments of time we are participants or witnesses of a start in our vicinity of a UFO vehicle which operates as a time vehicle and which remains invisible to the human sight. The start of such a vehicle causes waves on the time-space continuum. This in turn manifests itself to us in form of just such double repetition of the same sequence of pictures, sounds, or events. In order to download the free monograph [1/5] which in subsection M2 from volume 11 assumes the honourable task of dissemination of the unknown to people knowledge about the elapse of time, click on any of web pages which in "Menu 4" is displayed under the name "[monograph \[1/5\]](#)".

We all perfectly know the proverb that "all roads lead to Rome". The attribute of this proverb is, that it is still going to remain true when we modify it into the form which states that "if several roads leads to Rome, than this means that Rome actually does exist and can be reached by us". Expressing this in other words, if three separate groups of premises indicate that time vehicles are feasible and can be build, and even someone already now uses them on the Earth, we should not treat too serious claims of scientists who try to convince us to something completely opposite. After all, we know what evil forces hide behind backs of such scientists. Not mentioning that scientists are already famous through the ages from the fact that they are constantly wrong and that they repetitively are forced to deny whatever they stated shortly before.

Fig. #1 (T1 z [1/5]): Shown above is a photograph which provides an illustrative evidence that time travel is possible. Originally the above photograph is presented as Figure T1 from monograph [1/5], and as Figure K4 in monograph [1e]. It managed to capture one and the same UFO vehicle of K7 type, which, however, was photographed as being present simultaneously in two different areas of space at the same moment of time. Even if we ignore the principle on which this UFO vehicle moves, and which still even today remains a mystery for orthodox science, the sole fact that it is present simultaneously in two different areas of space, is a perfect example when the reality contradicts the claims of human orthodox scientists. (Notice, that the principle of motion of this UFO vehicle is already explained by the totaliztic science based on the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. This science explains that the motion of this UFO is carried out on the principles of the technical telekinesis - which is a technical version of human psychokinesis.) After all, orthodox human scientists claim that the same object is unable to be present in two places at the same time. Thus, the above photograph documents illustratively that orthodox scientists are at wrong regarding matters of time travel, and that people should not take too seriously what present scientists are stating on this subject, because their knowledge is still very far in the cave age. (Especially, when their claims are negative and try to convince people that something is impossible - after all the philosophy of totalizm reasoned that our universe is build in such a manner, that "everything is possible in it" - see subsection JB7.3 from volume 7 of monograph [1/5], or subsection B7.3 from volume 2 of monograph [8] "Totalizm"). The present orthodox science takes a similarly wrong stand in the matters concerning elapses of time. It believes that "time flows" while we stand still in this flow of time. In such understanding of time, time travels are impossible. But a new scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity reveals that actually time is motionless, similarly to a landscape, while it is us who move through this time, similarly as a traveller does in a landscape - for details see items #B2 and #B4 in this web page. In such an understanding of time, time travel becomes possible, and even relatively easy.

#D4. The Earth is an invisible "battlefield of humanity with UFOonauts", in which (the battle) UFOonauts utilise "time vehicles" against people:

"Simulations" of UFOonauts who pretend to secretly occupy the Earth, are extremely unhappy and bitter creatures. In spite that they are "simulated" to be cosmic relatives of people and they look exactly like every inhabitant of the Earth, and also in spite that the humanity supposedly originates from them, still throughout millennia they oppress humans. These "simulations" of UFOonauts also do everything in their powers to make people as unhappy as they are themselves. (Thus they illustrate the general rule that these ones, who are unhappy themselves, make also unhappy all around them. After all, the civilisation of UFOonauts is "simulated" as so twisted, brutal, and full of exploitation, that in past their native planet was described as the "hell".) Reasons for the arrival of "simulations" of UFOonauts to the Earth, and also reasons for their supposed secretive sabotaging of the development of humanity and for tormenting people, are explained more comprehensively in item #B4.4 of a separate web pages named mozajski.htm. Of course, this secretive sabotaging by "simulations" of UFOonauts is also directed at all totaliztic web pages, including this web page.

Notice, that because of these continuous sabotages of totaliztic web pages, NOT all on this web page is going to always work as it should. However, in order to protect it better from effects of such a sabotage, this web page is so designed, that everything on it can be done at least in two different manners. For example, this web page indicates further web pages, which represent its relatives in the subject area. Addresses of these relatives of this web page are as follows: immortality.htm, explain.htm, nirvana.htm, or soul_proof.htm.

One consequence of this continuous secretive war between humanity which tries to develop, and "simulations" of UFOonauts who block our development and progress, is that UFOonauts frequently utilise their time vehicles - means utilise their UFO vehicles of the third generation. For this reason, if one knows what to take notice of, then in our lives we can encounter numerous evidence, that time vehicles were just used in our close proximity. (Unfortunately, this their use always is for a destructive purpose.) On this web page I try to indicate the most representative examples of just such evidence. Furthermore, I try to indicate also this places in monograph [1/5], in which more of such evidence is provided.

#D5. The manner on which UFOonauts utilise their UFO vehicles of the third generation (i.e. "time vehicles") in order to make deeper the level of enslavement of humanity:

Motto: "Our future lies in hands of God, our past is manipulated by "simulations" of UFOonauts, so for us only present is left."

The knowledge of the future is the most important source of the physical advantage of "simulations" of UFOonauts over the humanity. It is also the primary reason why "simulations" of UFOonauts are able to keep us in slavery since the beginning of populating of Earth, until today, without us even noticing this. "Simulations" of UFOonauts know the future, and therefore already in present time they are able to eliminate all reasons, which one day could introduce a threat to their absolute domination over people. Due to their knowledge of the future, "simulations" of UFOonauts are also able to act selectively, means to concentrate their attention exclusively on these people and these events, which act against their interests on Earth. In this manner they are able to interfere into lives of these individual people, and prevent the occurrence of these individual events, about which they know that in the future these are going to act against their occupation of Earth. This item of the web page explains how they accomplish this their knowledge of the future, how it is utilised by them for keeping us enslaved, and what are symptoms when in our vicinity takes place just such interference into our affairs that is based on the knowledge of the future by "simulations" of UFOonauts.

In order to understand better the mechanism with the use of which "simulations" of UFOonauts learn about the future, it is enough to realise that they mastered the ability to travel in time. They constructed "time vehicles", and continually use them. These time vehicles at their request shift them back and forth into the future or past at any moment. (Until today an entire ocean of material evidence was accumulated, which confirms the key fact that "simulations" of UFO-nauts mastered time travel and that they already have time vehicles. A part of this huge evidential material is presented in chapter T from volume 15 of monograph [1/5], and also in separate Polish treatises [3B] and [4B].) Therefore, a routine component of their strategic activities is the "system for learning our future". "Simulations" of UFO-nauts developed this system and consequently utilise it in practice. This system is composed out of the institution of "time couriers". This institution is a principle, that every UFO-naut who operates in a given time, cyclically every each specific period of time must shift back to the past. In turn after arrival to this past, he or she must inform UFO-nauts who operate in there, what actions they must undertake in order the future from which these couriers arrived is shaped exactly according to their wishes, and thus this future works for the benefit of their occupation of Earth. As an example consider the situation, that UFO-nauts who operate in 2006 discover that in 1950 someone has taken a perfect photograph of a UFO vehicle. This photograph allows future generations of people to learn the exact shape of UFOs. In such a case, a group of "time couriers" arrived to beginnings of 1950s, quite clearly points out a task for UFO-nauts who operate in these times, to make impossible taking this particular perfect photograph of a UFO vehicle. After UFO-nauts complete this task, future generations of people on Earth, in the altered course of time do not have any more a chance to learn what are exact shapes of UFOs. In order to shape the future according to their wish, "simulations" of UFO-nauts change constantly events that already took place in our past. Of course, functions of these "time couriers" are performed by practically each single UFO-naut who operates in given times. Therefore, there is a lot of such tasks which in past are to be completed according to their information. In the result, almost every direction of human activities, that may lead to gaining by humanity any advantage over "simulations" of UFO-nauts, is effectively squashed in the seed.

In order to summarise the most important attributes of the knowledge of future by UFO-nauts, these are as follows: (1) the mechanism of this knowledge results from the fact that UFO-nauts have time vehicles and that they continually shift back and forth between the presence and the past. (2) The consequence of this knowledge is that "simulations" of UFO-nauts continually erase or change events in our past, which already took place, but which acted against their occupational interests on Earth. (3) The effect of this knowledge is, that UFO-nauts must intervene in personal life almost every single person on Earth, and that almost every individual inhabitant of Earth experiences personally at some stage of his or her life changes of his or her past and manipulations on presence carried out by UFO-nauts. (4) The symptoms of this knowledge include e.g.: (4a) frequent experiencing "déjà vu" ("dejavous") by almost every person, caused by the manipulations of UFO-nauts on past of this person, (4b) continuous changes of facts in relationship to our memory of these facts, (4c) the necessity to introduce changes to secondary events that result from changes in key events (this necessity is described at the end of subsection V5 from volume 16 of my older monograph [1/4]), (4d) impossibility to predict the future exactly, which results from the continuous changes that UFO-nauts keep introducing into our future (thus also impossibility to prepare a prophecy that would fulfil exactly in the predicted time frame), etc.

#D6. My personal experiences with cases when time travel induced by UFO-nauts took place in my close proximity:

I encountered personally several cases in my life, when effects of time travel and changes in our past become clearly noticeable for me. In fact, almost entire subsections V5.1 and V5.3 from volume 16 of my older [monograph \[1/4\]](#) are devoted to the presentation of just such cases. Several further similar cases, when time travel was used to reverse deaths which already took place and which happened to people whom I knew in person, are described in subsection I4.1.1 from volume 5 of [monograph \[1/5\]](#) (see item #4D over there). For a scientific exactitude I present here descriptions of at least the most representative out of these cases. Here they are:

1. The disappearance of my favourite icecream shop Häagen-Dazs in Kuala Lumpur. The first of my experiences took place in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, between Sunday 19/12/99, and Thursday 23/12/99. (I worked as an Associate Professor in ME at the University Malaya in Kuala Lumpur.) I even had a witness then in form of my partner. Namely, on Sunday, 19/12/99, myself and my partner we were shopping in the newly opened in Kuala Lumpur shopping centre called the "Megamall". This centre is located in a very convenient area called the "Mid-Valley", close to the centre of this colossal city. Its attractive attribute was that at this particular time it had a huge free parking with plenty of unused parking spaces - what is a rarity in the overcrowded and packed with cars Kuala Lumpur. After finishing shopping, myself and my partner we both decided to have a portion of our favourite icecream "Häagen-Dazs". But we were not sure whether the icecream shop of this company is represented in the Megamall. After rather long searches we found another icecream shop of some local company, the name of which we did not remember (perhaps that it was an icecream shop of the local "Dairy King" company). It was huge, and very popular. It had several long queues of people awaiting for their icecream. It was located on the right corner of the hall, just by the main entrance to the Megamall. So we asked in this popular local icecream shop, whether in the Megamall is also a shop of the Häagen-Dazs. In the reply, the busy employee of this popular icecream shop in silence pointed to us a huge writing "Häagen-Dazs" that was placed just opposite to this local icecream shop, just by the main entrance to the Megamall. Slightly embarrassed by this overlooking of the large writing, myself and my partner we went to the Häagen-Dazs shop, ordered our favourite icecream "maple walnut", and joked a bit with bored employees of this shop. (Because icecreams of Häagen-Dazs are relatively expensive, in their shops there is always much more employees than clients.) After eating our icecream, we left the shop remembering exactly where it is located. On our way to the car we even commented happily to each other, that it is a perfect coincidence that the Megamall has the Häagen-Dazs, because of the convenient location of this shopping centre and also because of the availability of free parking, we are able to pop up much more frequently to have our favourite portion of this icecream. Slightly later the same Sunday, together with my partner we drove to a distant Port Dickson. We returned to Kuala Lumpur on Thursday evening. While driving again near the Megamall, we pop up there for a short while to have our favourite portion of the icecream. But when we arrived to the main entrance to the Megamall, means exactly to the place where we remembered that the icecream shop Häagen-Dazs was located, with a shock we discovered that it is not there. Also in the spot where previously this huge local busy icecream shop was located, in which previously we asked for our way, now a differently looking, small and unpopular icecream shop "Dairy King" was located. So we come to the conclusion, that we must remember wrongly our way to the spot. Because we had no time for any longer searches, we decided to come again a next day.

On Friday, 24/12/99, we again arrived to the Megamall. After a thorough and systematic searching through the entire building, it turned out that it does not contain an icecream shop Häagen-Dazs, nor that such shop ever was there. The only explanation which I could invent to the disappearance of this shop was that in the meantime a "time surge" of some sort must took place, that wrapped the Megamall, but did not include Port Dickson in which myself and my partner were staying at that time. This time surge caused, that in a new passage of time, the usage of space in the Megamall was organised differently than we remembered it from our previous visit. But for my always sceptical partner, the disappearance of an icecream shop was a huge shock through which she was unable to ever get over. She voluntarily searched with me the entire Megamall, thoroughly looking into every corner, in order to reassure herself that the icecream shop does not hide in some other place, all time repeating in a shock: "it is impossible, it could not happen because we actually were in this shop together and we commented too vividly and too realistically the fact that it existed just in this place". After she discovered that the icecream shop completely disappeared from the Megamall, she did not gave up and checked even in the headquarters of this chain, whether they had an open shop in the Megamall - their reply was obvious: no, we never opened a shop in Megamall. Slightly later I discovered that simultaneously with the disappearance of the icecream shop, various architectural components of Megamall were also changed, for example the main entrance started to look slightly different, and cinemas were shifted from one end that lies above the supermarket "Jusco", to an opposite end of this mall. By the way, the above case of disappearance of the icecream shop of Häagen-Dazs was so-far the only case of such a "time surge", that was noticed both by me, and simultaneously by a different eye witness that accompanied me. Through all previous experiences of this type I went just myself without any additional witness, who could certify and thus also reassure me additionally about their actual existence. (I do not include here the change of the shape of hole in the Atiamuri stone in New Zealand, because all people who noticed this change did it independently from each other, and only later confronted with each other their independent observations.)

I was always wondering why I fancy icecream Häagen-Dazs so much. Only the brief article "Lives of note: Rose Mattus" explained this puzzle. It appeared on page B7 of the New Zealand newspaper The Dominion Post, issue dated on Thursday, December 7, 2006. The article states that the Häagen-Dazs brand of icecream was established in the Bronx district of New York in 1959 by a Polish immigrant named Reuben Mattus (1908 - 1994). The reason why his brand of icecream he named with the Scandinavian name Häagen-Dazs "pulled out of nowhere", which invented his wife Rose, was marketing. Reuben claimed the faux name conveyed an aura of old-world tradition and craftsmanship. But Mr Mattus based his icecream on a Polish recipe of his own mother. So it seems that the reason why I fancy this icecream so much is that it contains the taste of Poland frozen inside, which I know from my childhood (my own mother used to buy for me similarly tasting icecream on Sundays after the mass). Of course, apart from this taste and the recipe, the icecream have noting else to do with Poland. In 1983 Mattus sold the brand to the Pillsbury company - already then his shops were selling more than $100 million worth of icecream a year. Now (2006) his brand belongs to the Nestlé corporation.

2. The shifting time back which caused the disappearance of a job advertisement that suited me especially well. Since 23 September 2005, until now, I am on my second in life period of long unemployment. Various details of this unemployment are described more comprehensively in the introduction #A1 to the web page on solving the Rubik's cube 4x4=16. In order to decrease my chances of finding a next job, in this period of time UFOonauts make more deep the educational crisis in New Zealand. Thus in years 2005 and 2006 practically all Polytechnics and Universities of New Zealand were making their lecturers redundant. There was no demand over there for employing new lecturers with my professional specialisations. In spite of this, in final days of October 2006, the so-called AUT (i.e. the Auckland University of Technology) advertised a position of "Associate Professor", which fitted perfectly into my qualifications and professional experience. So I had a significant chance, that after filing my application I may get this job. Unfortunately, by some extremely strange coincidences, everything about this job went so slowly and reluctant like blood from a stone. For example, when I downloaded to my computer the content of this advertisement from the web page of AUT, always something strange was happening. Either the internet connection was interrupted, or software refused to work, or commands would not activate, etc. Most clearly UFOonauts continually used then on me this "sabotage loop" which is described in item #C3 (a) of the web page FAQ - frequent questions. In the result, just the downloading of this advertisement at occasions of my subsequent visits in Cyber Cafes took me around two weeks. In order to carry out this downloading, I was forced to send copies of this advertisement by emails and then copy it indirectly via several diskettes. When finally I managed to download this advertisement, similar difficulties appeared during the downloading a special application form which was required to be used in order to fill my application. And so, only on Sunday, 19 November 2006 I spend over an hour in a Cyber Cafe to download this application form. But all this unsuccessfully. Several times internet connection crashed between this Cyber Cafe and the rest of world. Then software refused to work. Finally links on the AUT internet web page failed. Because slowly a deadline of forwarding these applications was approaching, set on 30 November 2006, on Monday, 20 November 2006 I decided to put my application forward without the use of this form. In my application I intended to explain, that I was unable to download this application form and that I would like to ask to send it to me via email. But when I decided to write this application, it turned out that in the meantime this job advertisement which I downloaded earlier with such a huge difficulty disappeared from my computer. In turn, the advertisement had all bureaucratic information about this position, such as the reference number, addresses, names, people, etc. So I immediately ran to a Cyber Cafe, to download this advertisement again. Over there it turned out, that the advertisement is NOT any more on the web page of AUT, nor in the internet newspaper "www.seek.ac.nz" in which I also encountered it. As my further investigations revealed, it disappeared from all media on which previously copies of this advertisement existed (and in the meantime I generated several such copies). From my previous research is perfectly clear to me, that such a complete disappearance of something which does not leave any traces, takes place only then, when UFO-nauts shift time back and cause that in a new passage of time this something does NOT exist any more. So I am sure, that this job advertisement, which most probably I supposed to get in the future, was removed by UFO-nauts on purpose, by shifting time backward and then by making publishing this advertisement impossible in a new (altered) passage of time.

3. The exchange of paintings in a church. Shortly before November 2006 I took a part in a mass in a different church than normal. I noticed then a meaningful painting on the wall of that church. It illustrated one of the stations of the cross. The painting was showing Jesus hanging on the cross and two angels with partially spread wings hovering in the air just below palm-hands of Jesus. Although these angels had appearances of winged people, the manner their wings were positioned at their sides illustrated perfectly the appearance of UFO vehicles which dispersed on both sides clouds of ions with the vehicles' magnetic field. So in fact these angels looked almost identical to the two UFO vehicles which supervised the crucifixion of Jesus, and which were shown in photographs, amongst others, from web pages bandits amongst us, moral laws, or truth. So I thought that I take a photograph of this painting, and show it on my web pages together with the photograph of these two UFO vehicles that supervised the crucifixion of Jesus. But that particular day the church in which this painting was hanging had a series of masses arranged one after the other. So it was populated with worshippers all the time and there was no conditions to take a photograph. So I decided that I arrive to this church later in a working day just to take this photograph. Because the church was located quite far from my home, a next opportunity to visit it appeared only in December 2006 - means longer than after a month of time. For my shock, when I arrived over there I discovered that on walls of the church a completely different set of paintings is hanging. Of course, the painting which I intended to photograph was not amongst them. So I asked the woman who was doing something in the church, whether not long ago the church changed its paintings into a different ones. The woman said that the paintings which are hanging in there are for as long as she remembers. Means that UFO-nauts in the meantime changed the past of this church, just to make for me impossible the publishing of this meaningful photograph which illustratively confirmed the participation of UFO-nauts in the crucifixion of Jesus. In addition, this change of paintings confirms that with their telepathic implants UFO-nauts clearly check what I am thinking even when I am in a church. After all, about this my intention of photographing and publishing that particular painting I never told anyone, but only thought it over while participating in the mass at that church.

A similar picture as the one hanging in this church, i.e. showing two angels with partially spread wings that hovered on both sides of crucified Jesus, I saw already much earlier - many years before I began research on UFOs. It was in some old illustrated Bible which I was looking at in past. It resulted from the reference to these two "angels" (i.e. to two UFO vehicles which supervised the crucifixion of Jesus) contained in the Bible. Therefore, at this point I would like to ask the reader to give me a big favour. Namely if the reader knows about the existence of any illustrated Bible with this particular picture, or knows about any other place where this picture is displayed, I would like to ask for photographing for me this picture anonymously with a digital camera, and for sending it to me in an email. Since the UFO-nauts who occupy the Earth puts so much effort and technology to make impossible for me the photographing this picture, it means that the publishing it on web pages of totalizm is extremely important for humanity.

4. Reversal of the demolition of the house, which (the demolition) I saw with my own eyes. In years 1990 to 1992 I lived in Dunedin, New Zealand. But I visited several times an inventor from Christchurch, distant by around 360 km. He was an inventor of the extraordinary telekinetic heater. His heater generated several times more heat than it consumed electricity. This heater and the inventor are described comprehensively on the totaliztic web page boiler.htm - about the shocking fate of revolutionary heater which bits all records. Unfortunately, in 1992 I was forced to leave New Zealand in search of bread. When in 1998 I returned to Dunedin, I immediately rushed in a trip through New Zealand in search of a job. During this trip I was passing twice through Christchurch. In both directions I tried to visit this inventor. In the first visit I saw the house in which the inventor lived half demolished, while no sign of the inventor himself. When I visited him again on my way back, his home was completely demolished. Ruins of his house looked as if a heavy tank rolled over them. Nearby again was no-one whom I could ask what has happened. Furthermore, the name of the inventor disappeared from the telephone book. So I accepted that this is it, the natural end of our contacts, and I ceased further searches for him. But on 30 January 2008 in the television news a report about this inventor was broadcasted, prepared on the occasion of his 92nd birthday. About this report I wrote, amongst others, in item #E6 of the web page free energy.htm - about telekinetic generators of free energy, and in item #B3.1 of the web page newzealand.htm - about mysteries and curiosities of New Zealand. From the report it appeared that the inventor still lives in Christchurch. So almost immediately I visited him, in spite that I lived already on a different island and in the distance of around 360 km from him. I had no difficulties with finding him, as I still remembered the way to his house. To my shock, this house looked almost identical as it was before the demolition, although with my own eyes I saw that it was destroyed. So when I talked again to the inventor, I asked him directly whether his house was demolished in 1998. He denied. This make me to realise, that in the interest of creatures who have time vehicles in their disposal must lie the reversal of the demolition that I saw. Probably these creatures used their time vehicles to shift time back, and to prevent in the new passage of time the reasons for which in the original passage of time his house was demolished. In this way, in the new passage of time the inventor was NOT aware that his house was demolished - as I explained this in item #C1.1 above. Of course, the question which emerged then in my mind, was why these creatures (i.e. UFOonauts), which are well known from the stubborn acting to the detriment of humans, would use their time vehicles to reverse the demolition of the house of this particular inventor. A reply to this question I tried to find and explain on the web page boiler.htm - about the shocking fate of revolutionary heater which bits all records.

#D6.1. The probable relocation of a whole baroque church, together with the confession contained in it, from Warszawa to Święta Lipka:

During my professorship in Malaysia, for the vacation of 1995 I flew to Poland. On my way back to Malaysia I stopped for one night in Warszawa, in so called "Domu Turysty PTTK" on the Krakowskie Przedmieście no 4/6 (in 2004 this place was already called hotel "Harenda"). It was located along the same street as the Palace of President, only that positioned around a half of kilometre to the south from this palace. This hotel was recommended to me, because it had reasonable prices, and also because a bus stop of the line 175 which linked the city with the Okęcie airport (and back) was located just under it. After I checked in to this hotel, I went to the city for a brief walk. On my way I visited all churches that I passed by. In this way I arrived at the beautiful baroque church which was standing next to the Palace of President. In this church my attention was captured by two things. The first was a kind of corridor which linked the church with the palace, and which allowed the President to walk for prayers to this church directly from the palace. The second was so-called "confession". (A "confession" cannot be confused with a "confessional". A "confessional" is a kind of ornamental chair from which a priest listen confessions of people. In turn a "confession" is an imitation of the main propulsor from a UFO, that is erected inside of some churches. It always has a shape of "the Ark of Covenant", placed under a kind of baldachin supported by four curly columns. It always is located in front of the altar - almost at the centre of a given church. What exactly is this "confession" is explained slightly better in item #16 of the web page about the city of Wrocław, and also in caption under "Fig. 17" from web page about the town of Milicz.) This confession intrigued me enormously. The only other place where I saw it previously, was the Basilica of St. Peter in Rome. Unfortunately, I had not taken my camera with me for this particular walk. And already was evening, while the next day morning I was flying back to Malaysia. So I decided to postpone the photographing of it, and make it to be one of the most important tasks for my next visit in Poland.

My next visit in Poland took place in 2004. In order to photograph this confession, I again arrived to Warszawa one day earlier. This time I stayed in the Hotel Gromada not far from the airport. Soon after the checking in, I went from the hotel to this church not far from the Palace of President, in order to photograph the confession. But after I arrived to the church I discovered with a shock, that the interior of it looks completely different. In turn the confession which I intended to photograph was not there any more. At that time I already knew that UFO-nauts frequently play on me these kinds of tricks with their time vehicles. So just in case I asked the priest from this church whether they did not removed this confession lately. But the priest replied politely that the confession was never present in this church. And not only in it. According to his information no church in Warszawa have it. The only confessions about which he knows that exist in Poland, are in cathedrals in Gniezno and Kraków. (During this my previous visit in Poland of 1995, when I saw the confession in Warszawa, I did not visit Gniezno nor Kraków - so for sure I did not see their confessions.) In order to be later able to state, that I carried out all checking in my capabilities, just in case I visited also all other churches on the same street and on nearby streets. In fact none of these churches had a confession. So for sure UFO-nauts removed from under my nose with their ability to shift back in time, this particular church with the material evidence for my research on their hidden occupation of the Earth. However, according to what I explained in the item #C1.1 of this web page, because at the time of this removal I was in distant New Zealand, in my memory still remained the record of the old situation with this particular church.

On Monday, 18 December 2006 I watched in New Zealand television an English documentary film entitled "Excellent Adventures - Harry Enfield". In this program a television reporter named Harry Enfield, travelled from Gdańsk in Poland, through the so-called "Wolf Lair" (i.e. bunkers of Hitler's headquarters), until he reached Saint Petersburg, retracing the 1941 Barbarossa invasion of the Soviet Union along the same route on which the northern group of Hitler's armies was then marching. As a kind of curiosity he show on the film a building of baroque church which stands in the middle of nowhere, in a place called "Święta Lipka" (German "Heiligelinde", near Reszel, by the Lake Dejnowa). This church is one amongst the most beautiful baroque churches from the area of today Poland, and a place of special religious warship. When I saw this church my heart started to throb fast. This is because on the film I recognised the baroque church that used to exist by the Palace of Presided, which in the previous passage of time I visited in 1995 in Warszawa. These English reporters filmed it also inside. In fact it also had exactly the same confession which in 1995 I saw in the church by the Palace of President. This information I am writing two days after seeing the documentary, and still my hands shiver from the emotion. What has happened was so overwhelming, that I am unable to express my shock.

My personal feelings say that this baroque church from Święta Lipka, which I saw in the documentary film, and this baroque church by the Palace of President in Warszawa, are actually one and the same building. Unfortunately, as a scientist so far I am unable to confirm this with an absolute certainty. After all, I live in New Zealand, while to Poland I do not intend to fly again for another several years. But if this turns out to be a fact, then it would have a huge significance for our learning of laws which govern over work of time and over time travel. For example, it would suggest that there is a law in operation which states something along the lines all changes introduced to timespace after shifting time back, cause only the relocation of selected objects in different areas of the timespece, but are NOT able to neither remove these objects completely, nor create completely new objects. Expressing the same law in other words, a number of objects which saturate the timespace always remains the same for a given point in time. So time travellers are only able to cause changes in locations of these objects and in details of their appearance. But they are unable to neither remove completely any of the existing objects, nor create a new object - if in a different passage of time this object did not exist. When the operation of this law one tries to explain on an example, then in case when an owner of time vehicles would try to arrange a remotely controlled "assassination of the grandfather" - as described in item #C3.1 of this web page, then in spite that his grandfather in fact would be murdered, he still would be born and still would live through his life - only that probably would have a different name. Interestingly, in the content of a film produced in 2002 and entitled "Time Machine", in fact scenes were shown, which well reflect the law discussed here. (Such a scene is e.g. the repetition of the death of the fiancé of the main hero, which took place in spite that after shifting time back, in the new passage of time the main hero avoided the situation which in the original passage of time caused her death. An additional intriguing attribute of this film is that several scenes in it coincide with laws that seem to govern time travels (interesting where the idea of this film comes from, because for example UFO-nauts still do not have the advanced type of time vehicle the operation of which was shown on this film.) In case future research confirms that the law described here in fact does work in time travel, then this would have a huge practical significance for our knowledge of effects of the use of time vehicles.

At this point I would like to appeal to these readers who in years 1995 to 2004 lived very far from Warszawa, simultaneously before 1995 they visited a baroque church located by the Palace of President in Warszawa, to get in touch with me. I would like to verify with them how they remember the appearance of this church before, or in, 1995, but in the previous passage of time.

#D7. Which permanent evidence available to us confirms the use of "time vehicles" on the Earth by UFO-nauts:

There is much more of objective evidence for the possibility of technical implementation of further phenomena (after time travel and time vehicles) about which, as yet, the present orthodox science on Earth remains totally ignorant. Here is another illustrative example of such a phenomena, namely making objects invisible to human eyes. The photograph shown below captured a small UFO vehicle, type K3, which remains invisible to human sight, although the presence of it was accidentally registered by a photo-camera. The UFO vehicle was hovering in the position slanted at 45 degrees above a crop circle in Poland. At the same time UFO investigators were examining this crop circle totally unaware of the existence of that invisible UFO vehicle.

Fig. #2 (B20 z [4c]): The highly evidential photograph which discloses the manner on which UFO vehicles purposely hide from the human sight by entering the so-called state of telekinetic flickering, and also which proves that so-called "crop circles" are actually areas in which the crop is flattened down by the spinning magnetic field from a UFO propulsion system.

Fig. #2(a): A UFO vehicle of K3 type which remains invisible to human sight and which hovers on a UFO landing site in crops, also called a "crop circle" (frequently called misleadingly a "pictogram"), while people unaware of its invisible presence inspect this UFO landing site and take pictures of themselves.

Fig. #2(b): The true outline, appearance, and orientation in space, of this invisible to human eyes UFO vehicle type K3, which was captured on the photograph "Fig. #2a" from the left side. Even more illustrative appearance of this vehicle is shown on "Fig. A1(b)" from the web page about Magnocraft.

The only reason why on the above photograph could be captured the UFO vehicle that hides from people, is that the sensitive photo-camera is able to register on film a delicate glow of the air in areas where an object is hiding from the human sight. This white glow of the air captured on the above photograph, is called the "extraction glow". The existence of it and the mechanism which causes the appearance of it, are described relatively well by the new scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity.

(The above photograph and drawing originally appears in the treatise [4c], where it is shown as photograph Z_2_B2 and drawing R_2_B2. Thus, for more details about such invisible UFO vehicles and UFOonauts, see subsection B2 of that Polish treatise [4c], or see subsection LA3 in volume 10 of monograph [1/5], or chapter E of monograph [8] "Totalizm".)

The objective existence of such UFOs and UFOonauts invisible to human sight, was already documented on a huge number of photographs. Examples of such photographs are published in several publications (e.g. see that Polish treatise [4c]), and shown on several web sites (e.g. see a web site malbork_uk.htm, or a web page explain.htm - available, amongst others, via "Menu 2" or "Menu 4"). The existence of such photographs confirms again that our present orthodox science is submerged in darkness and ignorance in many very important areas, e.g. in the area of existence of creatures and vehicles that are invisible to human sight, or in the area of existence and material character of UFOs and UFOonauts who purposely hide from people (for more details about these UFOs and UFOonauts that purposely hide from people - see web page evil.htm, or see chapter OD from volume 13 of my English monograph [1/5]). So if present orthodox science is at wrong in such basic matters, it is also sure that it is at wrong in the matter of understanding of time and time travel.

#D8. Catastrophic consequences of the "imprisoned immortality", to inhabitants of parasitic civilisations - including the "simulated" civilisation of UFOonauts:

Motto: "The expression 'everlasting hell' is also a simplest description of a situation when parasitic owners of time vehicles are unable to resist the temptation to renew their physical bodies, while their old minds become ever increasingly unsatisfied, disillusioned, frustrated, bitter, evil, and unhappy, drowning them in the grip of increasingly powerful suffering, and in the fires of ever increasing desires which cannot be satisfied."

In item #C7 of this web page is explained, that in civilisations which practice the philosophy of parasitism, the implementation of the right of inhabitants of this civilisations to practice an "imprisoned immortality" leads to a disaster. Namely, it continuously decreases the level of morality in this civilisation. In turn, because this rapidly deteriorating level of morality expresses itself with the growth in aggressiveness of people, and with the increasingly deeper lack of happiness in the societies of that civilisation, the unlimited repetition of passages through the same life leads to a catastrophe. After it reaches the threshold level of repetitions of the lives of all citizens of that civilisation, the civilisation is going to blows itself up, and cease to exist. Usually the existence of it is interrupted at a very initial point in which the time vehicles and time travel are accomplished.

At this point I should add, that exactly such trend seems to be implemented also by UFOonauts. Because these UFOonauts practice the philosophy of evil parasitism, in spite that they have an access to the "imprisoned immortality" described in item #C7 of this web page, with the elapse of subsequent repetitions of their unhappy and unfulfilled lives, this immortality transforms itself into their curse, not their blessing. What is even more interesting, on the blog of totalizm linked in item #G3 below, on which these "simulations" of UFOonauts seems to frequently contribute their comments, is clearly visible which one amongst UFOonauts who take part in the discussion from the blog already reached the situation, that their psychology is completely destroyed, while their imprisoned immortality becomes already a curse for them. (The blog of totalizm is recommended for reading in item #G3 of this web page.)

Of course, to prevent their civilisation from blowing itself up and from ceasing to exist, UFOonauts are able to implement various precaution measures. It appears that some of these precautions UFOonauts already implemented, and inquisitive researchers can notice them. Some other still await the implementation. I intend to address the subject of these precaution measures during a future amendments of this web page.

#D8.1. The film "Groundhog Day" as an illustration for the mechanism of time, principle of operation of time vehicles, erasure of previous memory records during a "natural" shifting back in time, "imprisoned immortality", "everlasting hell", and the advantage over ordinary people that UFOonauts have because of time vehicles:

There is a highly educational film made in 1993, entitled the "Groundhog Day". The scenario for this film was probably written either by a UFOonaut who uses time vehicle for such a repetitive shifting back in time and for reliving the same day and events, or by someone whom such a UFOonaut explained how it feels such a repetitive reliving the same events. This is because the film perfectly reflects the feelings and fate of a given participant of such "imprisoned immortality", and who must relive again exactly the same events infinite number of times. In this film Bill Murray plays a television reporter, who via a time vehicle (NOT shown on the film) is repetitively shifted back to a beginning of the same day. Because it is his time being repetitively shifted back by a time vehicle, he remembers exactly all previous events and versions of the same day. However, all other actors from this film, including Andie MacDowell and Chris Elliot, represent us, people, who live through a given day in a natural (first) passage of time without being shifted back by a time vehicle. Because for us the same day is lived for the first time in a natural course of our time, we do not remember subsequent repetitions of it. Therefore for us people everything that happens during such repetitions of the same time is always happening for the first time. In total the film represents a perfect illustration for numerous aspects of the "imprisoned immortality" practiced without reaching a nirvana. For example, it illustrates perfectly which capabilities of the shifting back in time the immoral aliens (e.g. UFOonauts) are able to utilise for accomplishing various material benefits. It also illustrates the experimental "method of trials and errors" enforced via such repetitive shifting back in time, with the use of which UFOonauts are able to solve for their own benefit practically every situation that they encounter in life. The film shows as well why, and in what manner, such an "imprisoned immortality" is practically also a kind of refined torture and "everlasting hell" for these ones who experience it through the technical shifting back in time without previous accomplishing a nirvana. Because it is his time being repetitively shifted back by a time vehicle, according to what is explained in item #C1.1 of this web page, he remembers exactly all previous events and previous versions of the same day. However, all other actors from this film, including Andie MacDowell and Chris Elliot, represent us, people, who live through a given day in a natural (first) passage of time without being shifted back by a time vehicle. Because for us the same day is relived again in the result of not ours, but a "natural" repetition of the time, we do not remember previous repetitions of it. Therefore in our memory, everything that happens during such repetitions of the same time is always happening for the first time. In total the film represents a perfect illustration for numerous aspects of the mechanism of time and the "imprisoned immortality" practiced without reaching a nirvana. For example, it illustrates perfectly which capabilities of the shifting back in time the immoral aliens (e.g. UFOonauts) are able to utilise for accomplishing various material benefits. It also illustrates the experimental "method of trials and errors" enforced via such repetitive shifting back in time, with the use of which UFOonauts are able to solve for their own benefit practically every situation that they encounter in life. The film shows as well why, and in what manner, such an "imprisoned immortality" is practically also a kind of refined torture and "everlasting hell" for these ones who experience it through the technical shifting back in time without previous accomplishing a nirvana.

I personally would recommend for everyone to see the film "Groundhog Day". If this film is watched exclusively for an entertainment, means as an artistic product which shows some fictional situation of someone repetitively shifted back in time, than it is seen just as an average, sometimes even as boring. But if this film is viewed as a kind of camouflaged "confession of an UFOonaut", which explains how it feels to be an UFOonaut imprisoned in his own time and forced to live amongst people who do not understand anything, then this film becomes very passionate. After all, it reveals the mechanism of time, it illustrates time travel, it explains methods of acting of UFOonauts amongst people and reasons why UFOonauts almost always get what they want, and it also realises why UFOonauts are so frustrated, blazed, disappointed with life, and living in a kind of everlasting hell.

The interesting thing in this film is also the title of it. The animal named "groundhog" appears in the film only marginally, probably just to justify such a strange title. On the other hand, the expression "ground-hog day" can also be interpreted as meaning "the day of a pig from the Earth" - which would explain quite well feelings of the UFOonaut who "confesses" via this film his altitude towards humans with which he is forced to deal. For comparison, from my watching of internet discussions with UFOonauts who operate in Poland, it is known that between themselves these UFOonauts in the Polish language call people from the Earth with the Polish word "ziemniaki" - which word can also be understand as meaning "ground-pigs" (from Polish "ziem" meaning ground, and "świniaki" meaning "pigs"). This derogatory for humans undertone of the title "Groundhog Day" does not surprises me much. After all, if we consider for how thoughtless and idiotic mass the majority of people must probably appear to UFOonauts, then there is no much reason for which these UFOonauts should refer to people with a high respect.

#D9. Where this indescribable evilness of UFO "imprisoned immortals" comes from:

Motto: "Simulations" of "UFOonauts were NOT called "devils" in past because they were born already devilish. Their indescribable evilness results from their "imprisoned immortality" implemented in the society which is stripped out of morality."

Let us imagine for a moment a planet from a distant star, on which present UFOonauts used to live in times just before they acquired their time vehicles. On this planet the life most probably was similar to that which currently prevails on Earth. Means, inhabitants of that planet walked over head of others in the chase of money and richness. On streets everyone was in danger. After all, each form of public life of that planet taught people exclusively of banditism, mutual exploitation, and the lack of scruples. Into the duties of politicians the obligation to lie was permanently inserted. In their homes was also not funny. In television appeared exclusively killing, murders, tortures, death, destruction, etc. Children were playing with tools for spreading the death and calamity. In turn parents completely lost the control over the upbringing of their children, because the government established laws in there which punished severely all parents who tried to execute any discipline over their children. (I.e. laws similar to ones which ban smacking, which in November 2006 were pushed through the New Zealand parliament - see the article "Smacking ban gets the votes to become law", from page A1 of the newspaper The New Zealand Herald, issue dated on Thursday, November 21, 2006.)

Of course, such a social situation exerted a destructive effect on psychology of inhabitants of that planet. After all, whatever they wished to accomplish in their lives, it was made impossible for them. The society in which they lived make this not accomplishable. So all inhabitants of that planet were continually unhappy. Furthermore, they continuously lived in fear, uncertainty of tomorrow, frustration, stress, psychological torturing, and disappointment towards everything. In the result, in souls of these inhabitants grew for many years the feeling of unhappiness, bitterness, disillusion, contradiction, vindictiveness, etc. Each of inhabitants of this civilisation at an old age become a psychopath, which should not be approached without a long stick. Means, every old person was over there was a disappointed by life oldie, which is always grumpy, boring, disturbed, vindictive, unhappy, etc. Of course, everyone was such just inside. After all, outside he or she needed to pretend that is smiling and needed to behave politely - after all obtaining a job and social life required this from him or her. But when a policeman and superior stopped to watch, then this monster that was inside of them was creeping outside.

In just such a situation this civilisation rapidly become owners of time vehicles. Each one amongst inhabitants of it, could then shift the character of such a borer, complainer, shrew, wretch, etc., to a young body - as this is described in item #C7 for "imprisoned immortality". So rapidly this entire civilisation become populated with people who had young bodies, but simultaneously had inside personalities and characters of these oldies, means unhappy, shrew, and breathing with vindictiveness. In the result of all this, the immorality, evilness, viciousness, and aggressiveness of the entire this morally ill society become even deeper. The life on this planet become a true hell. After all, every citizen transformed into a monster which is saturated with indescribable evilness. In addition, this monster was forced to bottle up its true feelings. This is because the society in which he or she lived required continuous smiles and polite behaviours. Of course, this cycle of deepening of their evilness never finished. It is increasing with every cycle of shifting of citizens of this planet backward in time to years of their youths, according to principles of the "imprisoned immortality".

"Simulations" of UFO-nauts who secretly keep arriving to Earth seem to originate just from just such a civilisation. Also such creatures are these changelings who hold all key positions on the Earth. Although they are trained to pretend to be polite and civilised, in fact the depth of their savagery and evilness simply cannot be described to humans. Now these UFO-nauts (changelings) looking identically like people rule over people in such a manner, that they make sure the humanity becomes also similarly evil and similarly unhappy as they are. This is why they continually spread on Earth the death, killings, murders, suffering, destruction, wars, disasters, persecution, etc., etc.

The depth of UFO-nauts' evilness cannot be expressed in any words or compare to anything that we know on Earth. In order to at least partially realise it, one needs to be aware that all evil that happens on Earth originally comes from these UFO-nauts. Not without valid reasons old-timers used to call them "devils". For example, these are their UFO vehicles which do to people all this evil that is described on the web page about destructive use of UFO vehicles. These also are them who carried out all the evil described on web pages bandits amongst us, WTC, 26th day, Columbia, landslips and mudslides, Katowice, Katrina, tornadoes, hurricanes, plague, Możajski, evolution, and predators. But what is even worse, all this extreme evil is committed by UFO-nauts actually without logical justification and without the reason. Means, UFO-nauts are doing it just from the "bottom of their evil hearts", and only in order to satisfy their desire to spread destruction and to inflict pain to their own relatives from the Earth.

In order to get at least a rough idea about the quantitative level of monstrosity of UFO-nauts, we can use a principle of approximation. For this we should firstly recall the most immoral and unpleasant old person which we encountered in the entire our life (i.e. someone about whom we would not feel bad to call him "a dirty old man"). Means, we should recall the most immoral and nasty old grumpy person, evil, jealous, stingy, boring, etc., which we ever encountered in our lives. The point is, that in the evil society of UFO-nauts, every single old person after living through the entire live within a parasitic and highly deviated society, is going to have a character and a personality at least so deviated as the biggest "dirty old man" from the Earth. Then, the character of this most "dirty old man" that we know of, we should compare to a charm and to the born morality of an average small child. This comparison gives to us an idea, as to how much the character of a person can get twisted during only a single life. Finally, the difference of morality, characters, and personality of this dirty old man and an average child, should be multiplied by around 1000 - because so many times approximately each UFO-naut who occupy the Earth repeated his life and thus made deeper the level of deviation of his morality, character, and personality. When we do all these, then we are going to have a rough idea how evil are these UFOonauts. We are also going to understand why our ancestors called them "devils", and why these "devils" draw a huge pleasure from murdering people and from purposely bringing various harmful cataclysms onto the humanity.

It is worth to know, that UFOonauts are "simulated" as evil not only for people. They are also evil in relationships between themselves. As this stems from my contacts with them, decisive majority of UFOonauts seems to be lied upon and cheated by their superiors in even the most basic matters. For example, in spite that each one of them uses a "time vehicle", only a few sparse ones amongst them are trusted enough to be informed how time vehicles really work. In the result, a majority of UFOonauts behave as if they learn about the operation of time vehicles from my publications. They also do not have an idea about the existence of "true immortality" described in Part #E of this web page, nor about the possibility of building time vehicles which implement such true immortality. And all this in spite that this superior category of time vehicles is used in the universe since the most ancient times. (Only that by civilisations which do NOT belong to the bandit confederation of UFOonauts.) I will not elaborate here about the fact, that the subject of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, totalizm, and the role of nirvana in accomplishing everlasting happiness, UFOonauts also seem to learned only from my publications - although they could be informed about this by their own decision makers and scientists who know about these matters since thousands of years.

The above reason why UFOonauts are so devilish and so mischievous is also explained in item #A2 of the separate web page about bandits amongst us.

#D10. Extraordinary characteristics of the "non-existing existence" of evil civilisation of UFOonauts which currently occupies our planet:

In item #C8 of this web page is described an extraordinary attribute which appears in all evil civilisations that practice so-called "imprisoned immortality". It depends on the fact, that members of this civilisations, as well as these civilisations themselves, experience the so-called "non-existing existence". In this "non-existing existence" these civilisations, as well as all people in them, currently do exist, feel, and carry pout their evil. But simultaneously they do not exist, because after a period of time they are going to disappear from the face of the universe and there will be no slightest material mark that they ever existed at all. It happens so, that this "non-existing existence" is experienced just now by members of the evil civilisations of UFOonauts who are so "simulated" as if since the beginning of time they secretly occupy and exploit the Earth, and the description of who is provided in this Part #D of the web page, as well as in a number of separate web pages, e.g. pages destructive uses of UFO vehicles, or bandits amongst us. Well, the enormously fascinating characteristic of this "non-existent existence" is, that as if UFOonauts already knew that soon all signs of their existence will disappear from the face of the universe, members of this civilisation completely voluntarily behave in such a manner, that they do not leave almost any marks behind. For example:

1. UFOonauts systematically and on purpose destroy all evidence of their existence and operation on Earth. For example, they make impossible for people to take photographs of their UFO vehicles, they continually hide from people, the UFOonauts \(changelings\) who represent them by creeping amongst our authorities, make sure that none newspaper nor none official book publishes any reliable evidence of their existence, they abduct people only at nights and under a deep hypnosis, after the abduction they erase thoroughly the memory of each their victim, etc., etc. In the result, when these UFOonauts pass from the present phase of the existence, into a future phase of the non-existence, in fact no trace of them will be left which would need to be erased from the face of Earth.

2. In order to control events on Earth these UFOonauts change for selected people, never acting under their own name and account. Thus in spite that practically every bad event in the history of Earth is caused by UFOonauts, these UFOonauts never act openly. Always they change for selected people before undertaking their actions. In the result, when these UFOonauts shift from the present phase of the "existence" into a next phase of "non-existence", then in a new passage of time they will be replaced by people for which they changed in past.

3. Whatever "simulations" of UFOonauts do on the Earth, they always do it in such a manner that the fault for their actions falls onto some "scapegoat" or onto forces of nature. In the result, when UFOonauts pass from the present phase of existence into the future phase of non-existence, then simply in a new passage of time whatever has happened in fact will result from the action of these framed "scapegoats" or "forces of nature".

4. When UFOonauts murder or harm someone, then they always do it in such a cunning and deceitful manner that the victim blames someone else than them. In the result victims of atrocities of UFOonauts usually do not know "what hit them", thus sending their karma under a wrong address.

* * *

If someone tries to summarise methods of operation of UFOonauts on the Earth, as this is done e.g. on the web page destructive uses of UFO vehicles, then with a shock would discover, that UFOonauts already now behave exclusively in such a manner as if they do not exist at all. So the future shifting them from the present phase of the "existence" in the next phase of "non-existence" is going to be just a formality. It is not going to require from the universal intellect to introduce almost any vital changes to already existing timespace. I personally am very fascinated by such "supposedly voluntary - but in fact controlled by the universal intellect" behaviour and methods of action of UFOonauts. This is because in the voluntary and intentional manner UFOonauts themselves prepare the world for being easily erased from face of the universe - as if they never existed. What even more strange, by making this way the work of universal intellect much easier during the erasure of all signs of their previous existence, these UFOonauts deeply believe that whatever they are doing is justified by their parasitic interests on the Earth. This again highlights how superior being is universal intellect, and with what easiness this intellect controls fate of the universe - including also the fate of these atheistic UFOonauts who completely do not believe in his existence. Furthermore, this reveals one amongst more interesting methods of action of universal intellect. This method causes, that if universal intellect decides that someone deserves a specific fate, this someone begins to work then towards bringing voluntarily this fate on himself or herself.

#D11. If universal intellect already prepared shifting of the evil civilisation of UFOonauts from the present stage of "existence" into the future stage of "non-existence", then why still delays the implementation of this intention and when is going to carry it out:

Universal intellect always operates in a specific manner, which we people would call the "infinitely fair". For example, he always gives to everyone so-called "free will" - so that everyone decides about own fate. But simultaneously he gives people a system of unambiguous moral laws the obeying of which by everyone he executes with an iron hand and for breaking of which he punishes everyone the same severely. Also always, if he intends to do something drastic, he firstly sends his messenger to tell affected people that it comes and what it is all about - so that candidates for future victims have a chance to select their future fate. Always until the last moment he leaves open doors for these ones who decide to change their previous behaviour. Exactly such a method of action universal intellect implements also in the present, the most decisive phase of the existence of humanity. In this phase he allows people to choose their future fate. In order this choice is aware, he allows UFOonauts to act almost openly so that they illustrate to people visually what consequences of the worst their choice are going to be. Simultaneously he also gives a last chance to these UFOonauts - so that if they only wish so, still doors remain open for them. But at the moment of time when people complete their last choice, means when proceedings of the "final judgement" described in item #F1 of this web page are completed, fate of all encompassed by this judgement become decisively fulfilled.

Because "simulations" of UFOonauts still are needed to punish these people who deserve a punishment, universal intellect do not rush with shifting them into the phase of "non-existence". But when the fate of humanity is finally decided, then also the turn for UFOonauts is going to come. After all then UFOonauts become disposable as this "stick which punishes these ones who deserve punishment". So at that time happens what unavoidable, namely the "tapeworm" of immortality of UFOonauts described in item #C8 of this web page becomes destroyed at the very head of it. This is going to cause that the entire body of this "tapeworm" ceases to exist. Interestingly this disappearance of UFOonauts from the realm of existence, will look for them almost the same as these countless disasters which UFOonauts prepared for people during all these years. Simply at some moment of time all these UFOonauts unexpectedly for themselves will discover that they do not belong any more to the world of living. In addition, they will not know what hit them. Then the fate of individual UFOonauts will be judged the same as are judged fates of all others. Also every single one of them will meet the exact fate for which deserved.

Part #E: Time travel which utilises the principle of "waving the timespace":

The principle of travelling in time through the "deformations of magnetic field", described in parts A to C of this web page, has a whole array of drawbacks and limitations, which are explained previously in item #C2. But there is also a different principle of travelling in time. It is based on a different phenomenon of "waving the timespace". This one does not have any limitations. Fortunately for us, the UFOonauts have NOT mastered this other principle yet. Also every sign on heaven and Earth indicates that because of their adherence to the parasitic philosophy which in civilisations that follow it kills all creativity, UFOonauts by themselves never will be able to master this principle. Also UFOonauts are unable to steal or to rob this principle (similarly as they stole or robbed other vehicles that they already have). After all, the level of technology of UFOonauts is incomparably lower than this level in civilisations which already developed such a principle. This Part #E describes what we already know about this extraordinary principle of unlimited travel in time accomplished through waving the timespace.

#E1. The principle of time travel which is based on waving the timespace:

The principle and the phenomenon on which the travel in time through "waving the timespace" is based, are manifested on Earth since a long time. Most frequently people have a possibility of noticing it in the form of the "effect of time duplication", which is described more comprehensively in item #C6 of this web page. I personally note various manifestations of this effect at least once every year. It is this phenomenon that can also be used for travel in time. Fortunately, it is extremely difficult to construct devices which would allow to execute this means of time travel in a controllable manner. Thanks to this, "simulations" of UFO-nauts who for thousands of years use "time vehicles" described in parts #A to #C of this web page, still do not have devices capable of a controllable waving the timespace. On the other hand, travel in time based on this principle opens incomparably greater possibilities than travel in time on the principle of "getting between force lines of the magnetic field" described previously on this web page. For example, by waving the timespace it is possible to travel interactively in time to any epoch, and a traveller is NOT limited by the length of his or her own lifespan. Also the access to unlimited immortality is then gained.

In order to explain principles on which such waving of the timespace allows unlimited time travel, we firstly need to remind ourselves the explanation how time works, provided in item #B2 of this web page. According to this explanation, time is a kind of landscape, or more strictly "timespace", through which everything that exists in the entire universe does move. This "timespace" is extremely elastic. Every rapid movement which takes place on it, causes powerful waving of it. In turn when these waves caused by something are sufficiently powerful, then they cause that some objects are moved from one area of this timespace into another area. In practice this means, that these objects are shifted to totally different times. If any person by a chance becomes one of objects relocated in this manner, he or she is then shifted from his own time to a completely different epoch. "Simulations" of UFO-nauts are able to induce this phenomenon only by accidents, e.g. during every starting of their time vehicles, or during every explosion of their time vehicles. Therefore, the "effect of time duplication", which is described more comprehensively in item #C6 of this web page, is just an external manifestation of this particular phenomenon. But UFO-nauts are unable to induce this phenomenon in a controllable manner. The inducing it in so controllable manner that it would shift a selected object into a chosen area of the timespace, is extremely difficult. UFO-nauts have NOT mastered yet this skill. In my opinion they never will be able to master it - after all, they are unable to afford any creative activity. But other, more totaliztic civilisations are able to use such a waving of timespace for shifting selected objects to specific points in time.

There is a huge body of evidence, which confirms that such shifting of objects in time through waving the timespace is possible and that in fact every now and again it uncontrollably takes place around us. A significant amount of such evidence is presented in subsection V5.3 from volume 16 of my older monograph [1/4] (see item #4 over there). For a scientific exactitude I am going to repeat here the most representative examples of it. And so, it was just through such a waving of timespace, that in New Zealand a lizard-like creature called "tuatara" was shifted to the present times from the epoch when dinosaurs used to live on Earth. Just because of this extraordinary fact, that the mastery of the process of waving the timespace opens all possibilities, including the immortality, a Maori name for "tuatara" means a "key to the omni-knowledge". (See also item B1 in English monograph [5], which in subsection C7.3 from a Polish version [5/4] of this monograph was enriched by further details.) Also in literature there are descriptions of numerous phenomena induced by waving of timespace, which caused appearance and disappearance of various objects. Several examples of such cases are provided in subsection "Tajemnicze materializacje" from pages 57 to 83 of the Polish translation of the following book [8V5.3] by Rodney Davies "Nadprzyrodzone zniknięcia" (title of the original: "Supernatural Disappearances"), Dom Wydawniczy Limbus (85-959 Bygoszcz, skr. poczt. 21, tel./fax 28-79-74), 1995, ISBN 83-85475--80-X, 255 pages, pb. For example, on pages 78 to 83 of this book, a well documented case is described, when in 1979 four tourists from England, namely a brick layer Len Gisby, his wife Cynthia, and their friends - a rail-road worker Geoff Simpson and his wife Paulina, spend a night in a hotel from the village Cuccolde in Southern France. As it later turned out, this hotel, together with all employees, old furniture, and even old visitors and gendarmes, was shifted temporally to present times from around 1905. When, after their history was published, in 1983 searches for this hotel were initiated, only remains of the old foundations of it were found.

#E2. Characteristics of the time travel accomplished through waving the timespace:

Time travel which is based on waving the timespace has practically no limits, conditions, nor drawbacks imposed onto it. So the traveller can take with himself or herself to such a trip practically every object that he or she has, and every person or creature the company of which he or she wishes to enjoy. It also allows to shift in time to any epoch or period of time and stay there for as long as one wishes. Also all visits in different epochs and periods of time have interactive character, means a given traveller in time is able to participate actively in everything that he or she encounters in the epoch being visited.

#E3. True immortality:

Travel in time carried out on the principle of waving the timespace described in this Part #E, provides true immortality to the ones who mastered it. The owners of time vehicles working on this principle are able to shift to any epoch which they wish to visit, stay there for any length of time, and also take with them over there, or to take back from there, everything that they wish. Because simultaneously they have the good luck to live in a totaliztic civilisation, because only totaliztic civilisations are able to develop this kind of time vehicles, in fact their infinitively long lives are also full of infinitive happiness. So they practically live like gods. Our civilisation should try to adopt the following major goal of all human efforts: to cut humanity off from the parasitic future into which UFOonauts secretly are trying to force us, and to join the opposite club of these immensely happy totaliztic civilisations.

Part #F: Why it would really be worth to assist me now:

#F1. The court-hearing of the last judgement just started on Earth - and you are the judge and the accused:

Motto: "If you are a man born on Earth, then no matter what laws are imposed onto you, for the patriotic duty and also for your own good, in every life situation you should act pedantically moral - exactly as the conscience commands you to do."

The humanity just entered the most breakthrough period in the history. Never before in the past, a future fate of all people on Earth was depended forever on what the present generation of people does. This is because inclusively with the generation of people who were lately born on Earth, every next generation of inhabitants of our planet is able to build time vehicles for themselves - if they only decide to have them. All what is needed to build time vehicles, is to trust in truths that I explain to people, and to mobilise themselves to a common effort of technical implementation of my guidelines. In turn since the moment when a given generation of people build time vehicles for themselves, every inhabitant of the Earth becomes immortal. This is because every person obtains then the ability to renew his or her body infinitive number of times by shifting back in time, while his or her memory and his or her awareness of the continuity of the life will remain unchanged.

But in this most breakthrough time in the history of the Earth, when the humanity accomplishes the ability to live forever, the entire our civilisation is going to subject itself to the "final judgement", to pass on itself the final verdict. This verdict either advances every inhabitant of the Earth to the life in an "everlasting happiness", or condemns every inhabitant of the Earth to the life in an "everlasting hell" - as this is explained in item #C7 of this web page. After all, if every person on Earth manages to accomplish the state of the totaliztic nirvana still before he or she shifts back in time for the first time, then the humanity will be advanced to the honourable privilege of further life in the state of an everlasting happiness. Thus every citizen of Earth will then be able to live infinitively long, and to maintain during this infinitive life the unimaginable happiness. But if people begin to repetitively renew their bodies without the previous accomplishing the state of continuous totaliztic nirvana, then their minds begin to roll downhill into the fires of increasingly higher suffering and unhappiness. After all, with each shifting back in time, only their bodies become renewed. In turn their minds remain equally disillusioned, disappointed, scared, bitter, unhappy, and full of unfulfilled desires, as they were before the shifting in time. Because with the progression of the number of such shifting back in time everyone is going to live in the society which is composed of exclusively such "disillusioned oldies in renewed bodies", also the level of morality and happiness of the entire society begins to rapidly fall down. In the result, soon afterwards the life in such a society becomes like a punishment in the hell - all will be increasingly more unhappy, increasingly more aggressive and unpleasant to others, increasingly more burned by fires of unfulfilled desires, increasingly more disillusioned and bitter, etc., etc. Actually in case when someone accomplishes the immortality without previous accomplishing the permanent state of totaliztic nirvana, then such someone is going to live like in the everlasting hell. After all, he or she will be unable to resist the temptation of a repetitive avoiding the death through renewal of his or her body, but simultaneously after each such renewal of the body he or she becomes increasingly unhappy.

Although the above verdict about a kind of the future which awaits humanity becomes announced only at the moment when people build time vehicles for themselves, the court procedures for this final judgement begins already now. After all, humanity knows already now that at each of its wish it can accomplish the immortality, and also that the fate which people meet after this immortality is achieved will depend on whether by that time people earn for themselves the moral tradition of accomplishing the totaliztic nirvana. In this proceeding of the "final judgement" of humanity just being initiated, everyone amongst us is both, the judge, and the accused. The judge is because by the level of happiness which the society around allows him or her accomplish in this life, he or she is able to determine precisely which one out of both fates to select from (i.e. the "everlasting happiness", or the "everlasting hell") the humanity already earned for itself by a given time. Simultaneously each one amongst us is also judged. After all, the fate which is going to be met by the entire humanity, can also be met by each one of us. This is because after building time vehicles, the skill of their building will begin to shift back in time - as I explained this in item #C10 of this web page. So in some moment of time in the future, we also can be included into this cycle of reviving and repetitive renewals of the body, even if earlier we are going to die. (Not mentioning that for sure this fate is going to be met by our descendants.)

The above explanations reveal clearly how the old expression "final judgement" should be defined in the light of the situation called the "imprisoned immortality" that is repetitively implemented by the owners of time vehicles. According to this definition, by the term "final judgement" the civilisation which builds time vehicles should understand the period in its own history through which is going to shift backward the technology and the skill of constructing time vehicles, and thus in which (period) is decided the moral situation of people who later are to use these time vehicles for accomplishing "imprisoned immortality". This "final judgement" issues a single verdict, to which are subjected later all people who in this civilisation use time vehicles for accomplishing "imprisoned immortality". Namely this verdict is either "everlasting happiness" or "everlasting hell". The verdict is going to depend on whether or not all people who are being shifted back in time to days of their youth managed to accomplish the state of totaliztic nirvana before this shifting back in time is executed for them.

So in reality right now the eternal fate of humanity is being decided. Therefore each one of us have now not only a moral duty, but also a personal interest, to put the entire energy which is able to yield, into the lifting of the level of morality around us. In turn by lifting this morality every one of us is going to contribute towards the creation of the moral climate on Earth in which every single citizen will be able to accomplish the totaliztic nirvana. Fortunately, this lifting of morality is simple - we only need to mobilise ourselves to implement it. It boils down to listening the voice of our conscience in everything that we do. Means in every situation that we encounter in our lives we should always choose such a line of action, that is agreeable with the voice of our conscience, and thus moral, while simultaneously does not break the requirements which are imposed on us by the society around us.

The only problem which during this lifting of the level of morality still does exist, is that mixed with us and hiding in crowds are UFOonauts who already long ago entered the state of an "everlasting hell". To be even worse, these UFOonauts occupy almost all key positions on the Earth. They impose on us their laws, provoke us to aggression and immoral activities, sabotage our efforts to spread knowledge and truth about the role of morality in our lives, and do everything in their powers to push us onto the path of an identical "everlasting hell" as the one along which they are moving. In order to act even more effectively, in present times they assumed the tactics of "wolves in sheep skins" - about which the Bible warns us. For example, in Poland many of them for a long time impersonate adherers of totalizm, only to be more effective in pushing the totalizm down and in sabotaging my activities on the Earth. Thus another duty of each one amongst us (in addition to the doing everything in life in harmony with requests of our conscience), is that we have the duty to oppose all these provocations, commands, and cunningness, with the assistance of which UFOonauts continually try to push us from the path of moral behaviour.

The expression "final judgement" described here, as well as an array of similar biblical expressions such as "everlasting life", "everlasting happiness", "everlasting hell", "resurrection of dead", etc., all of them contain an extremely vital warning which the entire humanity should study thoroughly. Unfortunately, UFOonauts (changelings) on purpose so distorted religions, that these incline us towards ignoring such warnings. This is because all religions suggest that such warnings do NOT apply to our physical life, but to the afterlife. Furthermore, they imply that the reality presented in these warnings was already preprogrammed into the fate of humanity - thus actions of individual people is unable to change them. However, the newest research of totalizm, which implements the emerging knowledge about time vehicles, and also the knowledge about so-called telepathic projectors, explains something completely opposite. Namely, it reveals that an array of biblical expressions in fact describes and explains the warning against the trap of selecting a wrong path, into which people can fall when our civilisation builds first time vehicles. In turn saving ourselves, and also the entire humanity, from entering this wrong path lies in capabilities of every person. After all, it boils down to earning by each one amongst us the totaliztic nirvana. A whole selection of biblical expressions which contain this warning, interpreted from the point of view of explaining to us the wrong manner of using time vehicles, is described in Part #F of a separate web page about God.

#F2. Try to help me actively already now, so that when your life comes close to the end, you will NOT be sorry that you ignored my appeals for help in the completion of time vehicles - which by pressing a button would shift you back to years of your youth and allow you to enjoy life forever:

Motto: "Someone claimed that 'seeing is believing' - obviously he had no experience with present generation of passive worshippers of TVs."

The present "television-based" way of living taught us impassivity and exclusion from all proofs and from everything that happens in the distant world. After all, continually there is a war somewhere and always people die - but we do NOT have influence on it. Continually someone works on a new medicine - but we have not "caught" yet this particular disease. Somewhere is possible to earn millions - but we can't be there. Etc., etc. So when we hear about a next "distant" development, i.e. about the "time vehicle", then we also treat it with equal passiveness and exclusion. We consider this vehicle to be just a "private business" of some Jan Pajak - while we do NOT have anything to do with it. However, the reality turns out to be exactly opposite. The time vehicle is NOT just a private business of Jan Pajak, but an important business of each inhabitant of the Earth. After all, it is going to allow us to defeat the death. In turn every inhabitant of the Earth one day is going to be on the so-called dead-bed. Also everyone must finally give to death all these ones whom he or she loves the most. Thus everyone who then recalls that much earlier could actually help me to build the time vehicle - which by pressing a button would shift him and people most close to him back to years of their youth and allow them to enjoy life forever, will be very sorry that had not helped this Jan Pajak. Therefore, you should try to save yourself from this indescribable sorrow that is to come at the time of death. Do not wait until it is going to be too late. Begin to help already now. After all, even if you are poor like a church mouse, and have NO influence at any decision, you still have eyes which are able to see proofs that I am describing here, rational thinking which allow you to appreciate these proofs, and also have fingers capable of pointing these proofs to other people. You still have mouth capable of convincing, logic that allows you to detect, disclose, and fight out unjustified attacks on my accomplishments, constructive mind that can deduce how to effectively help me, and a pen capable to act at a distance. So even without our meeting and direct support, you still can help me indirectly, e.g. through just preparing people for the acceptance of the idea of this revolutionary invention and by creation of the atmosphere in which it is the people's common wish that my time vehicles are build.

Part #G: Summary, and final matters of this web page:

#G1. Let us summarise what this web page tries to realise to us:

In present world it is extremely difficult to disseminate any new idea which has a potential to lift our civilisation to a higher level of development. After all, the present orthodox Earth science acquired a character of a religion. It orders authoritatively to believe unconditionally in whatever it states. It also implies in its statements, that it is errorless. But simultaneously, because of the secretive occupation of the Earth by morally decadent UFO-nauts, this science is strongly infiltrated by agents of these UFO-nauts, and forced to mislead humanity on purpose. Therefore, all truly progressive and breakthrough ideas or inventions on Earth, starting from the historic experiments with the construction of first airplanes and finishing on Oscillatory Chambers, Magnocrafts, or time vehicles described on this web page, are always initially persecuted by this official Earth science in an open manner. (Scientists begin to acknowledge such ideas and inventions only at the very end, when these become reality and when the science has no other option but to begin claiming benefits resulting from these ideas.) So it should not surprise anyone, that also descriptions of the mechanism of time and the operation of time vehicles provided on this web page, as well as the scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity from which these explanations originate, are similarly persecuted and purposely ignored by the present official science on Earth.

On the other hand, explanations for the work of time and time vehicles provided on this web page, are extremely vital for our civilisation. After all, they are the key to everything. These explanations can open not only a path to the release of humanity from all plagues which trouble us - including these UFO-nauts which persecute people since the beginnings of time. These explanations can also give to people a key to immortality. Furthermore, these explanations unambiguously indicate the only correct path to the happy future of all people. (Which is to adopt the pedantically moral principles of behaviour by all people.) So in spite of whatever would say about this web page any highly paid agents of UFO-nauts, in a vital interest of all of us lies that the findings from this page are studied carefully and applied, or compared, to events from our everyday life.

#G2. It is worth to return periodically to this web page:

Unfortunately, the subject area of manipulation on time, and thus also the development of time vehicles, is a very complex one. It hides a number of aspects, which require skilful presentation. Simultaneously, because of the belonging of many of these aspects to the level of our science and technology, which still did not arrive to the Earth, their explanations require a huge amount of thinking and perfecting. Therefore, this presentation is still only just an initial realising, that "time vehicles" and a technical manipulation on time are actually possible, that that the knowledge on this subject is absolutely vital for our civilisation because it allows to defeat death, and that I would be able to build time vehicles if other people would assist me in my efforts instead of persecuting me for dissemination of this knowledge. In order this initial realisation is to be converted into a full explanation of all aspects of this difficult and delicate problem area, the above descriptions must be extended for additional aspects, improved, and shown from several different points of view. Therefore, it is worth to return periodically to this web page in order to check how the matter of explaining the time travel develops and is presented then here.

#G3. Blogs of totalizm:

It is also worth to check periodically the blog of totalizm available under several address, e.g.: totalizm.wordpress.com, or totalizm.blox.pl/html. (Notice that all these addresses hold the same blog with the same content of messages.) On this blog many matters discussed here are also explained with additional details written as new events unveil before our eyes.

#G4. Emails and contact details to the author of this web page:

Current email addresses to the author of this web page, i.e. officially to Dr Eng. Jan Pajak while courteously to Prof. Dr Eng. Jan Pajak, at which readers can post possible comments, inquiries, or replies to questions which I ask on my web pages, are provided on the web page about me \(Dr Eng. Jan Pajak\). That page also provides other commonly used contact details to the author.

The author's right for the use of courteous title of "Professor" stems from the custom that "with professors is like with generals", namely when someone is once a professor, than he or she courteously remains a professor forever. In turn the author of this web page was a professor at 4 different universities, i.e. at 3 of them, from 1 September 1992 until 31 October 1998, as an "Associate Professor" from English-based educational system, while on one university as a (Full) "Professor" (since 1 March 2007 till 31 December 2007 - means at the last place of employment in his professional life).

However, please notice that because of my rather chronic lack of time, I reluctantly reply to emails which contain JUST time consuming requests, while simultaneously they document a complete ignorance of their author in the topic area which I am researching. Therefore, if the reader sends a request to me, I suggest to let me know somehow that he or she actually went through the trouble of reading my web pages and learning what these pages try to say.

#G5. How with the web page named "skorowidz links.htm" one can find totaliztic descriptions of topics in which he is interested:

A whole array of topics equally interesting as these from the above web page, is also discussed from the angle that is unique to the philosophy of totalizm. All these related topics can be found and identified with the use of content index prepared especially to make easier finding these web pages and topics. The name "index" means a list of "key words" usually provided at the end of textbooks, which allows to find fast the description or the topic in which we are interested. My web pages also has such a content "index" - only that it is additionally supplied in green links which after "clicking" at them with a mouse immediately open the web page with the topic that interest the reader. This content "index" is provided on the web page named skorowidz links.htm. It can be called from the "organising" part of "Menu 1" of every totaliztic web page. I would recommend to look at it and to begin using it systematically - after all it brings closer hundreds of totaliztic topics which can be of interest to everyone.

#G6. A copy of this web page is also disseminated as a brochure from series

[11] in the safe format "PDF":

This web page is also available in the form of a brochure marked [11], which is prepared in "PDF" ("Portable Document Format") - currently considered to be the most safe amongst all internet formats, as normally viruses cannot cling to PDF. This clear brochure is ready both, for printing, as well as for reading from a computer screen. It also has all its green links still active. Thus, if it is read from the computer screen connected to internet, then after clicking onto these green links, the linked web pages and illustrations will open. Unfortunately, because the volume of it is around a double of the volume of web page which this brochure publishes, the memory limitations on a significant number of free servers which I use, do NOT allow to offer it from them (so if it does NOT download from this address, because it is NOT available on this server, then you should click onto any other address from Menu 3, and then check whether in there it is available). In order to open this brochure (and/or download it to own computer), it suffices to either click on the following green link or to open from any totaliztic web site the PDF file named as in the above green link.

If the reader wishes to check, whether some other totaliztic web page which he or she just is studying, is also available in the form of such PDF brochure, then should check whether it is listed amongst links from "part #B" of the web page named text 11.htm. This is because links from there indicate all totaliztic web pages, which are already published as such brochures from series [11] in PDF format. I wish you a fruitful reading!

#G7. Copyrights © 2013 by Dr Jan Pająk:

Copyrights © 2013 by Dr Jan Pająk. All rights reserved. This web page describes principles of time travel and phenomena which accompany time vehicles, all of which I (i.e. Dr Jan Pająk) discovered and developed myself, and thus for which I reserve intellectual authorship for myself. Therefore I would like to remind these researchers who wish to repeat explanations provided here in their own publications, that I do NOT impose any conditions nor restrictions on the repetition of my findings concerning time and time travel, although my wish is that they include references to my research and publications during every presentation which is linked directly with my explanations (means, that they respect my authorship by indicating in their presentations that these explanations originate from my research contribution). Of course, the main purpose for which I promote the unlimited dissemination of my explanations concerning the phenomenon of time and time travel, is my desire that these phenomena, as well as a selection of other devices developed on their basis, are put into the service for our civilisation as soon as possible. In order to accelerate the accomplishment of this goal, onto all these who build in future any device of my invention which were described in publications and web pages that I disseminate free of charge, I impose a moral duty of designating 10% of the pure profit that the production and sale of these devices bring to them, towards the special fund for the research and development of further devices that will lift the advancement of our civilisation to a next level (e.g. the fund for research and development of the time vehicle described on this web page, or Oscillatory Chamber described in the second volume of monograph [1/5] and Magnocraft described in the third volume of monograph [1/5], telekinetic cells described in volumes 10 and 9 of monograph [1/5], or the fund of research and development of the Zhang Heng seismograph described in subsection K6.1 from volume 9 of monograph [1/5]). Details of this fund are described in subsection AB2 from volume 2 of my [monograph \[1/5\]](#).
